

ARMED MERCHANT VESSEL BATTLES TO HEROIC END

British Cruiser Saves Most of Convoy Before Going Down

By The Associated Press

An Eastern Canadian Port, Nov. 13.—Sixty-five seamen, most of them wounded, were Canada's heroes today — scarred, exhausted survivors of the armed merchant cruiser Jervis Bay which saved at least 29 ships of a convoy of 38 before sinking, guns still roaring, in a mid-Atlantic battle with a powerful German raider.

They were brought into port late yesterday by a Swedish freighter, one of the convoy, whose Captain, Sven Olander, went back after dark the night of November 5 because "they did so well for us that I did not like to leave."

The identity of the freighter and the number of missing crew members of the 18-year-old, 14,164-ton Australian liner converted into a lightly-armed convoy guardship were kept a military secret. Also, the identity of the raider was unknown, but some of the survivors thought possibly she was a 10,000-ton pocket battleship, the Admiral Scheer or the Luetzow.

Survivors of the fight—of which the world had its first inkling last week when distress calls crackled out over the Atlantic—told how the Jervis Bay headed without hesitation into the "hopeless" fight, laid a smoke screen under which the convoy scattered, and plowed through a storm of shells straight for the raider until she was sunk by the latter's power.

Captain Ship
Captain E. S. F. Fegen remained in command "with one arm almost shot away" even though the fore part of the bridge was blown from under him. He went down with the blazing ship.

A British Admiralty communiqué credited the saving of three-fourths of the convoy, which the Germans reported completely destroyed, largely to the "very gallant action" of the Jervis Bay.

It said that despite "greatly inferior armament" the Jervis Bay "continued to engage the enemy after she had been severely hit and was burning furiously," and exploded after a two-hour fight.

Twenty-four ships in the convoy were reported to have reached ports, five others were reported safe and, the Admiralty added, "it is possible that some of the ships still missing may be safe."

Among the vessels reported already in port were the liner Rangitiki and the freighter Cornish City, whose distress calls were heard in the United States the night of the attack as the convoy was steaming from Canada to England.

"It was a sunny evening when we picked up the (German) ship on the port side at 4:50 o'clock," said one of the Jervis Bay officers.

Raider Opens Fire
"She was a long way off. I don't know which of us saw the other first. She opened fire first, though. She closed to get into range, and we closed, too, leaving the convoy. We got between the enemy ship and the convoy and dropped smoke floats to screen the merchant ships from the raider."

Captain Olander of the rescue freighter said the fight that followed was "glorious," and added in halting English: "I'll never forget it."

He fled, with the rest of the merchantmen, but turned back after dark to search the calmed seas for survivors of the escort ship.

Olander said he thought he saw five merchant ships in the convoy struck by shells fired by the raider.

He thought the raider's second salvo of shells, aimed at the Jervis Bay, overshot and damaged the Rangitiki.

The survivors brought back tales of heroism which ranged from their captain's persistence at his post though severely wounded to an account of a seaman who, when the Jervis Bay's flag was shot away, climbed the rigging amid shellbursts and fastened a new ensign which still waved through smoke clouds as the ship took her last plunge.

Former Union Leader Is Granted Divorce
Detroit, Nov. 13.—(AP)—Circuit Judge James E. Chenot today granted Homer Martin, former president of the United Automobile Workers (A. F. of L.) a divorce from Norina M. Martin. The case was not contested.

Martin charged his wife had a violent temper and once struck him. The couple married March 19, 1922, and separated in December, 1937, the bill stated. They have two children, 16 and 10 years old.

Martin, who said he now is a manufacturer's agent, reported that a property settlement and alimony have been arranged.

Firm Growing

Joseph W. Staples, above, pioneer Dixon undertaker, and his partner, Frank Buckley, who today announced plans for establishment of a fine modern funeral home on Third street between Central Place and Depot avenue. Details below.

Dixon Morticians Secure Residence for Funeral Home

Through a transaction which was consummated late yesterday, Frank D. Buckley, who has been associated with Joseph W. Staples in one of the oldest undertaking businesses in northern Illinois, purchased the spacious property owned by Mrs. Sadie Mack on Third street between Central Place and Depot avenue. The new owner announced today that alterations and renovation would be made at once and shortly after December 1st, the Staples funeral home will occupy the property.

The spacious residential property, suitably located for the purpose, will provide an ideal funeral home. Only minor changes will be necessary to provide the required accommodations in the establishment of a modern funeral firm, Frank Buckley will move into the residence shortly to make his home.

Staples a Pioneer
The senior member of the firm, Joseph W. Staples, is one of the pioneer embalmers in northern Illinois. He began his apprenticeship March 1, 1886 when he entered the employ of Harvey Camp & Son of this city, and in 1903 entered in business for himself. He has continued this business since that time, during which he has established a high reputation for sympathetic and friendly service and ethical conduct of his profession.

Frank Buckley, a native of Lee county, became associated with the Staples organization in April.

Princeton Gas Utility Under New Ownership

Sale of the Princeton Gas Company manufacturing plant and distribution system in Princeton, Bureau county, to the Princeton Gas Service Company was authorized today by the Illinois Commerce Commission. The commission reported the sale price was $20,000. The purchasing company was granted a certificate of operation by the commission and was directed to file the same schedule of rates as is now being charged for gas service.

No Time for Jokes

Chicago, Nov. 13.—(AP)—Out in suburban Glenview they're telling about the house maid who hung up, not once, but three times on telephone calls from President Roosevelt.

Following the death recently of Governor Henry Horner, a group of his friends, including Senator Scott W. Lucas (D-Ill.) gathered at the Glenview home of a Horner relative where the senator placed a call to Washington to inform the president of the governor's death.

While the group was at dinner the maid, answering the phone, heard the operator say: "President Roosevelt calling."

"Listen, I can't be bothered with jokes now, snapped the maid, slamming the receiver. In fact, she hung it up three times before the call got through.

Dixon Guardsmen Facing Emergency; Need Public Aid

Captain August Wimpleberg, commanding officer of Co. A, 129th Infantry of this city, which is scheduled to entrain about the first of the year for Camp Peay, Tenn. for one year's intensive training, last evening met with representatives of the Dixon Chamber of Commerce to discuss an emergency which confronts the Dixon company, and as a result President Knack named a committee composed of Capt. Wimpleberg, Harry Beard and Grover Wilhelm to promote "Company A Welfare Fund."

The company commander explained that many things will be needed when the Dixon soldiers enter the new and completely unfurnished buildings at Camp Peay, and it is the intention to purchase every necessary article in Dixon before the company leaves. Not only will the present members of the Dixon company be benefited by the "welfare fund" but draftees from Dixon and vicinity, who, when ordered to report, may at their request be assigned to duty with Company A at Camp Peay and by so doing spend the year with the Dixon organization.

Capt. Wimpleberg explained to the committee that because of the peace time mobilization, the buildings would be bare of any equipment when the troops arrive at Camp Peay. The officers will be obliged to furnish their own quarters. Much of the equipment at the new armory belongs to the state of Illinois and cannot be taken away from the building, which necessitates the purchase of these necessities.

"It is my desire to purchase every article possible in Dixon where the company members reside and are employed," Capt. Wimpleberg told the committee.

For Emergencies
In discussing the plan for the "welfare fund," Capt. Wimpleberg explained that the company funds would not be sufficient to make the necessary purchases to furnish the camp quarters. After arrival at Camp Peay, he stated, funds would be necessary for emergencies, to provide transportation for members of Company A in cases of sickness or death in their families and for many other uses. The peace time maneuvers and training, he explained, are on an entirely different basis than actual wartime concentration, and that the federal government provides no equipment to furnish the quarters. Such equipment as is the property of Company A will be transported to the camp in trucks, it was explained. At once the company is in need of electric fans for use next summer and anyone having discarded fans may turn them over to the company to be repaired and put in running order; floor lamps are needed, and these too will be received, repaired and used in the quarters; about 20 folding card tables are desired, together with about 50 folding chairs. Any recreational equipment which can be used will be welcomed by the company and subscriptions to popular magazines.

Series of Blasts Are Investigated

(By The Associated Press)
A series of blasts in explosives plants—one of which was engaged in defense manufacture—drew the attention of investigators today in an attempt to determine whether they were connected with possible a botage efforts.

A three-way inquiry was begun into the explosion in which eight were killed and 26 injured at the plant of the United Railway Signal Company plant, Woodbridge, N. J., yesterday.

Three were killed in the plant of the Trojan Powder Company, Allentown, Pa., which had army and navy contracts for explosives.

Another three died in the Burton Powder Works of the American Cyanamid Corporation at Edinburg, Pa., in an explosion of 1,000 pounds of dynamite.

Other Violent Incidents
On the heels of the powder plant explosions came reports of other blasts and violent incidents.

A 10,000-gallon storage tank exploded at the Canton Refining Company, Canton, Ohio. The blast's force blew the top off the tank and knocked down several employees, but none was injured. It appeared to be accidental.

In Oklahoma, an explosion damaged units of the Phillips Petroleum Co. 1 oil well under circumstances which the plant foreman said were mysterious. No one was working at the time.

Two men were killed and two others injured when a shipbuilding crane at San Francisco's Western Pipe & Steel Company capsized. The incident was reported to the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

STORM'S TOLL IN HUMAN LIVES IS NOW PLACED AT 92

Dead in Midwest Include Sailors and Hunters; Winds Diminish

By The Associated Press

Diminishing winds over the Great Lakes aided heroic marine rescue efforts today while bitter cold enveloped most of the mid-continent.

Coast guard crews battled Lake Michigan's frigid waters in an effort to keep down the death list written as boats went down or broke up under the pounding of the worst storm in years. Search for missing duck hunters was still under way.

There was a total of 92 known dead. They included sailors, hunters, victims of snow and freezing weather and those killed in the gales that accompanied a violent storm which began in the west Sunday and swept eastward across the nation Monday and yesterday.

Four Vessels Lost
Two freighters and two fishing tugs were feared lost with all hands, totalling 65. These were the freighters William B. Davock and Anna C. Minch and the tugs Indian and Richard H. The known dead so far constituted 16 bodies washed ashore near Ludington, Mich., and identified as crew members of the Davock and Minch.

Two other sailors were lost from the pulpwood carrier, Novadoc, which broke up off Pentwater, Mich., but the 17 other members of her crew were rescued after clinging to the broken hulk for 24 hours.

The gasoline tanker, New Haven Socony, carrying 16 men, was 36 hours overdue at Muskegon, Mich. The tanker, Crudoil, which had been missing with 23 men, limped into Sturgeon Bay, Mich. A sister ship, the Mercury, with about 20 men, found shelter off North Manitou island in northern Lake Michigan. Several other vessels were aground but their crews apparently were in no grave danger.

Known Death Toll
The known death toll of 92 included 18 sailors, 27 duck hunters and 47 others. The hunters died in these states: Minnesota 12, Wisconsin 6, Iowa 4, Illinois 3, Windsor, Ont. 2.

The 27 midwestern duck hunters perished in the cold and wind that churned lakes and streams, upsetting frail hunting craft, a survey of the game bird area showed today.

Many hunters, reported missing from their parties, were rescued by searching parties or made their own way back to bases safely.

Bryan McCracken, 26, and Edward Raker, 38, of Banner, Ill., drowned when their boat overturned in the Illinois river near Liverpool, Arvella Young, 42, of Fort Madison, Iowa, drowned when the wind crushed a blind and pinned him on a flooded island in the Mississippi river near Dallas City, Ill.

Exposure Is Fatal
Young was the only one of a party of 11 marooned overnight on the island who did not return safely. The bodies of three other Fort Madison hunters were found on an island in the Mississippi near Fort Madison. They had died of exposure.

Other hunters were reported missing, and searchers continued scouting the hunting grounds for traces of them.

Donald C. Terry and Arthur Murray, both of Chicago, rowed to the shores of Grass Lake near Antioch last night and said they had been sheltered on isolated Blarney Island during the storm.

Two brothers, Herbert and Chester LeRoy, and Herbert's son, Billy, 15, were missing near Chillicothe. The LeRays were from Peoria.

STORY OF JEOPARDY
Pentwater, Mich., Nov. 13.—(AP)—A story of 24 hours of jeopardy amid the howling fury of one of Lake Michigan's most furious westers was told today by survivors of the foundered Canadian freighter Novadoc.

Refreshed by hot coffee and warm blankets at the local coast guard headquarters after their rescue this morning by a fishing tug.

Hunt Bodies of Two Army Fliers Who Fell in Lake

Spirit Lake, Ia., Nov. 13.—(AP)—The place where a missing army plane crashed and sank with the loss of three lives here Sunday night was definitely located today, although ice halted further efforts to remove bodies of the victims.

A deputy sheriff said he had found a pool of oil in the inch-thick cake of ice that blanketed the lake today, a short distance from Stony Point, over about 20 feet of water.

The engine and fuselage of the plane is believed to be there, and possibly the bodies of two of the U. S. army fliers who drowned with their ship.

The body of Lieut. Robert M. Prange, 22, of Fredericktown, Mo., reportedly piloting the plane, was recovered from ice on the north shore yesterday and will be sent to Hardin, Ill., for burial as soon as train service is resumed here after Monday's blizzard.

Ice Dangerous
The ice which halted further attempts to retrieve the bodies of the other two fliers was reported to be too thin to support a person walking and too thick to crush with small boats.

Rescue plans were held in abeyance until the ice either thickens or breaks up.

Still missing were Lieut. G. Smith, 26, of Clinton, Ill., and Private Anthony Cerrato, 22, of Canton, Ohio, who were aboard the craft.

A wing of the ship, which crashed into the lake during a severe rainstorm, washed up on the shore yesterday.

Lieut. Prange's father, A. W. Prange of Hardin, Ill., and the flier's uncle, Bryce Isaacs, of Gillespie, Ill., came here to return the body for burial.

Sergeant Elmer Phuhl and Corporal Wurtzell came here from the Fort Crook, Neb. army post to help in the search for the plane and the additional victims.

The fliers were en route from St. Paul to Fort Crook.

Lee Supervisors Deny Harmonite's Claim for Damage

A claim of $76.66 filed with the road and bridge committee by Ira Merchant of south of Harmon for damages to a truck sustained when it allegedly crashed through the floor of a culvert, brought a lengthy dispute among Lee county supervisors yesterday afternoon at the monthly meeting of the county board. Supervisor J. E. Mau favored payment of the claim by the board, after Supervisor John Archer, chairman of the road and bridge committee informed the board that his committee had denied the claim when it was learned that the truck did not carry a license plate at the time of the accident on Oct. 23.

Fred W. Leake, county superintendent of highways informed the board that his investigation disclosed that the truck was loaded with grain at the time and did not carry a state license. When the roll call was taken, four members declined voting privilege and the claim was disallowed.

Appreciation
State's Attorney Edward A. Jones appeared before the board and expressed his appreciation for the fine cooperation extended his office during the past eight years and Chairman H. O. Risister in turn thanked the county prosecutor for his assistance to the board members during this period.

Supervisor D. H. Spencer recommended to the board the adoption of the food stamp plan in Lee county as a method of reducing the cost of distribution of per food commodities to the county. Chairman Risister appointed a committee composed of Supervisors Spencer, Charles Buckingham of Amboy and J. W. Courtwright of South Dixon to investigate the advisability of the adopting stamp plan.

The board voted to install photostatic equipment in the office of Circuit Clerk and Recorder E. S. Rosecrans for a 30 day trial after which the board will consider its purchase.

Judge Signs Decree to Re-organize Railroad
Chicago, Nov. 13.—(AP)—Federal Judge Michael L. Igou today signed a final decree approving the re-organization plan of the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul & Pacific railroad.

Under the plan, approved last February by the Interstate Commerce Commission, the equity of common and preferred stockholders was eliminated. Attorneys for the stockholders indicated they would appeal the case of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals.

The plan further provided for reduction in capitalization from $744,760,713 to $548,533,321 and cut the annual fixed charges from $23,739,279 to $4,269,645.

In Final Rest

George O'Malley, pioneer clothier of Dixon, passes

George O'Malley, 72, of 825 Hennepin avenue, a lifelong resident of Lee county and a pioneer clothing merchant of Dixon as a member of the firm of Vaile & O'Malley for 38 years, passed away at 5:40 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the Passavant hospital in Chicago, to which he was admitted Nov. 4. He had been in poor health for some time prior to going to the hospital. Funeral services will be held at his late home at 9 o'clock Friday morning and at St. Patrick's Catholic church at 9:30, with burial in Oakwood cemetery.

Mr. O'Malley was born in Marion township, Lee county, Aug. 31, 1868 and was during his life in Dixon always a promoter of civic good and progress. He was a member of Dixon lodge No. 779 B. P. O. Elks, Dixon Council No. 690 Knights of Columbus and the Dixon Country club.

He is survived by three sons, Peter and George, Jr., Dixon, and Edward, Chicago; a daughter, Mrs. Harold Grieb, Dixon; three sisters, Emma and Anna, Dixon, and Mrs. John Doland, Chicago; three brothers, Charles, Rockford; Walter, Rock Island, and John, Dixon, two grandchildren and several nieces and nephews.

His wife, three sisters and a brother preceded him in death.

Members of the Knights of Columbus, of which Mr. O'Malley was a charter member, will meet at the residence at 8 o'clock Thursday evening to recite the Rosary.

Hartnett Through as Cub. Dec. 31st
Chicago, Nov. 13.—(AP)—Philip K. Wrigley, president of the Chicago Cubs, said today that Gabby Hartnett's contract as manager of the team would not be renewed when it expires December 31.

"We are announcing this decision now," said Wrigley, "as soon as we know it ourselves, both out of fairness to Hartnett and because we believe the fans expect and are entitled to know what's what about their ball club. The success or failure of the club does not depend on any one person, but rather on getting the right combination, both on the team and throughout the entire organization."

"We are not blaming Hartnett—he has done everything he could, but we feel it is up to us to try and keep on trying to get the best possible combination of personnel to produce the best possible results. We may be wrong."

New Law Puts Bankrupt Officers on Equal Basis

Washington, Nov. 13.—(AP)—Receivers and trustees in bankruptcy were authorized by presidential order today to examine federal income and other tax returns.

Treasury officials said that while other similar fiduciary officials already held this privilege, bankruptcy officers apparently had been omitted from the right by accident, and the new order was intended to put bankruptcy officers on an equal basis with others.

Grand Jury to Probe Chicago's Election
Chicago, Nov. 13.—(AP)—A Federal grand jury will investigate the recent general election in Chicago to determine whether any Federal statutes were violated.

J. Albert Woll, United States district attorney, announced today the first witnesses probably would be taken before the jurors tomorrow.

Britain's Royal Navy Strikes Severe Blow at Mussolini's Fleet

The War Today!

(This daily feature, conducted by De Witt MacKenzie, is being written by Fred Vanderschmidt while MacKenzie is taking a brief vacation.)

It is like walking in a fog to go through the inspired totalitarian commentaries on the Molotov-Hitler meeting; yet it all appears to boil down to a supreme German diplomatic effort to make land power supreme over sea power in the Near East.

The British navy still dominates the Mediterranean, from one end to the other, and the main reason it still has that dominance at the eastern end is Turkey, Britain's ally. Turkey controls the land bridge between Europe and Asia Minor, and were that land bridge open to a hostile power, no combination of sea power alone could block the road to Suez, through Turkey, Lebanon or Syria and Palestine.

Turkey has held firm to the British alliance—a pledge of mutual assistance in the event of an act of war in the eastern Mediterranean area—although she has not implemented it and has not, apparently, been asked to do so.

But Turkey has given increased evidence of her dependence on Russia, the only power which could give her adequate and immediate assistance by land if she were attacked by Germany.

Ismet Inonu, the president of Turkey, the man who acted as sort of a military bookkeeper for the great Atatürk, said two weeks ago in almost so many words that Turkey intended to chart her course with a careful eye on soviet foreign policy. Even before he spoke, German Ambassador Franz Von Papen, the Von Papen of America's World War memory, was on his way home to Germany.

Was this the cue for German-Russian negotiations?

With a Russian promise to stay out, German troops could descend through Bulgaria, give aid and comfort to the Italians by helping subdue Greece, and camp on the fringes of Turkey's Dardanelles. Then, with Russia, on the one hand, looking the other way and Germany on the other, exerting the military pressure that is all too familiar in Europe, Turkey might have no other choice but to let the Nazi divisions, Suez-bound, roll through.

Along about that time there probably would be another "final" peace offer to Britain, possibly, even, through the use of soviet good offices.

All this, of course, reflects the viewpoint of German desires and benefits, and does not take into account Russia's own interests which will, of course, dictate her decision.

It is clear that Russia sees it to her advantage at present, and perhaps for a long time, to stay out of the greater war. But it is a pretty good guess also that Russia is desirous of assuring herself of strategic advantages and buffers in the Near East before she agrees to play Hitler's game there.

In other words, Russia may have her own idea of some new kind of life insurance to protect herself against the very power with which she is negotiating today. And in that case a German offer of a free hand in Iran, Afghanistan and India might not be enough.

With all the emphasis on the eastern end of the Mediterranean, it is not wise to forget Gibraltar and the struggle between the British and the Italians on the western side of Suez.

Any German thrust at the Dardanelles, in the opinion of many military experts, is likely to be correlated or even preceded by a German march through Spain to Gibraltar.

Something of the sort is becoming rather an urgency for the axis. The British are steadily increasing their forces and equipment in Egypt; the Strait of Gibraltar is an open empire roadway and the rock a priceless empire base. Britain's power in the western Mediterranean is a constant menace to Italian African reinforcements and supplies.

Moreover, the growing British air power in the Middle East is now declared by the Admiralty to have crippled half of Italy's capital naval forces, even though those heavy ships never yet have ventured from their bases.

'Fed Up' on Dampness
London, Nov. 13.—(AP)—The members of one London family, are alive today because they were so "fed up" with dampness in their private, backyard air-raid shelter they decided to sleep in their house last night.

During the night, a German bomb scored a direct hit on their shelter, destroying it.

"Four members of my family have spent every night there for several weeks," a middle-aged woman explained up a nightgown series of attacks, "but last night we were just too fed up with the shelter's dampness so we all stayed in the house."

Tale of "Hopeless" Battle
Survivors of the lightly-armed British cruiser Jervis Bay brought to safety in Canada, told today

Balance of Power in Mediterranean is Affected

(By The Associated Press)

Britain's Royal Navy "has struck a crippling blow at the Italian fleet," the London Admiralty reported today, seriously damaging two fascist battleships and probably a third as well as two cruisers "snuggling behind their shore defenses" at the Taranto naval base.

In addition, two auxiliary warships there were reported "lying with their sterns under water."

Prime Minister Winston Churchill told a cheering House of Commons that "the result of the action decisively affects the balance of power in the Mediterranean."

London naval experts said the victory would release powerful units of the British Mediterranean armada to join in a world-wide hunt for a "phantom" German surface raider—possibly the 10-ton pocket battleship Admiral Scheer or the Luetzow—which attacked a convoy in mid-Atlantic November 11.

Nine Ships Missing
Nine ships from the convoy are reported missing.

The raid—which Churchill lauded as "this glorious episode"—was said to have left only three battleships in active service.

Claim Second Victory
Still another British naval victory at the expense of Italy was reported by the London Admiralty later in the day. The Admiralty said British warships sank an Italian supply ship, set two others afire, damaged another, and blasted an Italian destroyer in an attack Monday night off Valona, Albania.

With her growing command of the seas, the British government also announced the extension of its blockade to three sides of Africa, including Syria, French West Africa, Liberia, Portuguese Guinea, Madagascar and Reunion Island.

London naval circles said the attack on Taranto was made by planes carrying aerial torpedoes, which are launched by dive-bombing. Ordinary bombs, it was said, would have been ineffective against the heavily-armored Italian battleships.

Taranto, described as Italy's main sea base, lies at the "nape" of the Italian boot.

The Admiralty said the attack, climaxing fruitless months in which the British Mediterranean fleet has sought to engage the Italian fleet in open battle, "probably" left only half of the fascist navy's six capital ships still effective.

Royal Navy planes, flying from undisclosed bases, carried out the assault on the night of November 11-12, the Admiralty said.

Admiralty's Picture
Bomb hits caused such havoc aboard two of the battleships they had to run ashore to prevent sinking. One of these, belonging to the 23,622-ton Conte de Cavour class, was under water "from her stern up, including the after turret."

Another battleship of the 35,000-ton Littorio class was "badly down by the bows" with "her forecastle under water and a heavy list to starboard."

In addition to this reported naval success, apparently clinching Britain's command of the Mediterranean waters which Italians call "mare nostrum—our sea," London military quarters announced another triumph on land, in the fierce struggle in Egypt.

These sources said British Indian and white troops had captured, last and then re-captured the strategic port town of Gailabat, on the Anglo-Egyptian-Sudan frontier, in a four-day push over which the Italians "suffered heavily."

While there reports were cable from London, the empire capital twice underwent air-raid alarms from axis warplanes, which roared across the channel in great waves and spread out over the England midlands and Wales.

"Hundreds" of Raiders
"There must have been hundreds of them," observers said.

Winners at Forrester Ag Fair

Seventeen vocational agriculture students of the Mount Morris high school exhibited corn, poultry and potatoes at the sectional vocational poultry and grain fair held at Forrester Saturday. Twenty schools of northern Illinois competed. Mount Morris boys won a total of $36 in prize money and Clarence Cheek won the grand champion ribbon for having the best peck of potatoes in the show. There were 54 pecks in competition. Other winners were: early potatoes, 3rd, Larry Wolfe; 4th, Lawrence Colson; 5th, Donald Stengel; Robert Snodgrass; Carl Bamforth, Gene Messer, Darrell Strite, Lavere Watson, Charles Beard and Wayne Priper. Late potatoes: 1st, Clarence Cheek; 3rd, Larry Wolfe, Donald Medlar, Lavere Watson, Wayne Priper, Lawrence Colson, Bill Shaw, and Robert Dehl won minor prizes in corn. J. A. Tworock, agriculture teacher of Sterling and Vincent Slover, agriculture instructor of Dixon judged the exhibits.

Final tabulations shows the annual community chest budget was over-subscribed to the amount of $184.55 making the total drive resulting in a contribution of $2,484.55. A meeting of the chest board has been called by President Harold Ross for Thursday night, Nov. 14 at 7:30 P. M. at the village hall. All members are urged to be present.

Approximately 125 parents attended the P. T. A. Monday night to see the showing of the moving pictures of the local schools at work and see the fine exhibits in each room. The boys glee club sang several numbers and the Bronson trio entertained with instrumental selections. This program started the week's observance of National Education Week. Tuesday morning County Superintendent W. L. Pickering gave a talk before the high school assembly.

The 13th district meeting of the American Legion will be held in Mount Morris Sunday, November 24, according to an announcement made by 13th district Commander Charles Edson. There will also be a school for senior and post officers at 10 A. M. to be conducted by Lester Benston, department service officer. The auxiliary will serve dinner at noon and the afternoon address will be given by

BLAME YOUR LIVER IF—

If your liver doesn't secrete 20 to 30 ounces of bile every day into your intestines—constipation with its headaches, mental dullness and that "half-alive" feeling often result. So you see how important it is to keep bile flowing freely! And what finer aid could one desire than Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, used so successfully for years by Dr. F. M. Edwards for treating his patients for constipation and sluggish liver bile. Olive Tablets are unsurpassed in effectiveness because they stimulate liver bile to help digest fatty foods, they tone up muscular intestinal action, at the same time help elimination. Being purely vegetable, Olive Tablets are wonderful! Test their supreme goodness TONIGHT! 15¢, 30¢, 60¢. All drugstores.

William F. Waugh, department commander; William Seymour, 2nd division commander; Dr. Norman Shee, child welfare chairman; Lyle Snavey, department organization officer and Mr. Benson. The Blackhawk grange will hold their regular November meeting and annual election of officers at the grange hall Friday night. Mrs. Ernest Bruner returned home Sunday from Milwaukee, Wis., where she had spent several days with her son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Bruner.

Cal G. Tyler, one time commissioner of public health and safety in Dixon, and a member of the Illinois Safety Commission, will address the Kiwanis club tonight on "Boy Problems that Confront Peace Officers." As usual the meeting will be held at the V. F. W. hall with the auxiliary serving the 6 o'clock dinner.

Mrs. William Snodgrass returned home Monday from the Freeport hospital where Nov. 2 she gave birth to a son.

Army Rushes Big Housing Project at Fort Custer

BY HERBERT A. HALL

Fort Custer, Mich., Nov. 13.—(AP)—The turbulent days of 1917 have come back to this huge world war military reservation this fall as the army bends every effort to finish a $7,500,000 housing project before the snow flies. To the east and the west, as one stands in the center of the reservation, there stretch row upon row of gleaming new barracks as far as the eye can see. More than 2,000 carpenters, bricklayers, plumbers and electricians are working on these buildings while anxious army officers keep close tab on their progress.

Largest of the groups is that which will house 15,308 officers and men of the army's streamlined fifth division. Another group of buildings will be the quarters of the 184th field artillery, formerly the 8th Illinois infantry, a Negro regiment. A third installation will serve as reception center for possibly half of the 131,000 men who will be drafted for a year's army training from Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin.

65 Per Cent Complete

The fifth division barracks, mess halls, administration and recreation buildings are 65 per cent complete and Major General Joseph M. Cummins, the commanding general, plans to begin concentrating the first units shortly. These units will come from Fort Sheridan, Illinois; Fort Benjamin Harrison, Indiana, and Fort Thomas, Kentucky.

By January 15 this concentration, which will be the largest of its kind to be stationed permanently here since the World War, will be augmented further by 5,271 selective service men who will be distributed among the various units to bring them all to war strength.

The reception order, through which will pass thousands of selective service men immediately after they leave their local draft and induction boards, is 50 per cent complete. The center is planned to care for approximately 1,000 men at a time, and army officers say that no man will stay here more than four or five days.

During that period he will undergo various aptitude tests, get his inoculations and his first issue of uniforms and personal equipment. On the basis of data assembled about him at the reception center will depend his final assignment in the army.

Close though the resemblance is to 1917, the buildings which the army are erecting here are considerably different. Twenty-three years have taught both the army and the civilian construction industry a great deal about housing and all this knowledge is being put into the huge project here.

Capacity For 63 Men

The barracks buildings, which are two stories tall and have a capacity of 63 men each, are being insulated carefully against winter weather. They are being equipped with the latest type of hot-air furnaces and plumbing and no effort is being spared to make the soldiers comfortable.

Each company also is being provided with a recreation building. There are, too, larger recreation buildings for each regiment and, as a further insurance that no soldier will find time hanging heavy on his hands when he's off duty, the government is building three motion-picture theatres, each with a capacity of 1,038 men.

Hospitalization facilities are getting close attention. Besides the hospitals already at the reservation, the army is building one hospital with a 350-bed capacity and another with a 500-bed capacity. The larger hospital, array officers say, is capable of rapid expansion to a maximum of 800 beds. There are, in addition, regimental infirmaries to take care of minor illnesses and injuries.

The reception center is a self-contained unit with a 1,000-man cafeteria, 20 barracks, a recreation building, an administration building and other structures. It will be ready, they say, by the time the first draftees get here.

Four times as much money was spent for America's part in the 1917-18 World War, than for the four preceding wars, in which the country engaged, combined.

Miss Raeuber Tells Phidian Art Club About Graphic Art

Graphic arts—ranging from lineoleum, block and wood prints, to mono-prints, etchings, aquatints and lithographs—were discussed by Miss Trelys Raeuber, art instructor in the Dixon schools, for members of the Phidian Art club yesterday afternoon. Mrs. William E. Trein was the afternoon's hostess.

The speaker prefaced her remarks with a quotation from the Englishman, Josiah Reynolds: "A room with good pictures is a room for thought." "And the room where we are assembled is certainly one for thought," she added, calling attention to various prints within view.

Processes required for making prints were explained and illustrated with pictures, and a chart was displayed of tools used, including a brayer, printer's ink, a rocker, burnisher, and an etching needle. Miss Raeuber exhibited several Rembrandt etchings, and told her audience that one of the noted artist's favorite themes was of Christ healing the lame and sick. She also spoke of Goya, Whistler, and a twentieth century artist, Rockwell Kent, who began his career as a fisherman in Maine, and later traveled through Alaska and South America.

John W. Mills preceded Miss Raeuber's paper with an announcement of a lecture course being planned by the Dixon Forum. Refreshments were served at the close of the program.

Job's Daughters Receive Charter

Presentation of the Bethel charter, initiation ceremonies for three new members, and an official visit from their grand guardian, Mrs. Hazel Nickerson, made a special occasion of last evening's meeting for Job's Daughters in Brinton Memorial Masonic temple. The Bethel, which has been under dispensation since its organization in April, will be known as "Dixon Bethel No. 59."

Mrs. Nickerson presented the purple and white charter to the honored queen, Elaine Mueller. Names of 32 charter members appear on the gold-sealed document, including:

Sylvia Heckman, Donna Hutton, Betty Orr, Betty Ross Simons, Barbara Wimpleberg, Janet Wimpleberg, Betty Grimes, Dolores Fallstrom, Audrey Knack, Georgia Orgiesen, Avis June Leer, Elaine Horton and Barbara Hoon. Elaine Horton, Avis June Leer and Barbara Hoon were the initiates last evening.

Some 150 members and guests were present from Chicago, Joliet, Rockford, Freeport, and Dixon. Refreshments were served at the close of the evening.

LOVELAND P-T. A.

The duties and responsibilities of a school board member were discussed last evening by Robert Warner for members of the Loveland Parent-Teacher association. Superintendent A. H. Lancaster explained the significance of "National Education Week."

The remainder of the evening's program included selections by the seventh and eighth grades, and accordion solos by Betty Barton. Mrs. Harry Fish presided during the business meeting.

Refreshments were served by a committee composed of Mrs. John Ruth, Mrs. Lee Mick, Mrs. Fred Hobbs, Mrs. Edna Pine, and Mrs. Harry Leffer.

Lyle Snader Is Guest of Honor

Sheriff Gilbert P. Finch was instigator of a party held last evening at the Finch residence by way of a farewell courtesy for his young office deputy, Lyle Snader, who leaves before the end of the year for Washington, D. C. to begin his new duties as secretary to Congressman Leo Allen.

About 25 friends of the guest of honor were present, forming tables for card games as the evening's pastime. A brief case was the group's gift for Mr. Snader.

O. E. S. CLUB

Members of the O. E. S. Parlor club will precede their bridge games by a dessert course when they meet in Brinton Memorial Masonic temple for their bi-weekly party on Monday afternoon. Meadames William Slothower, George Nettz, Guy Merriman, C. Finley, and Ralph Zarger compose the committee.

Dramatic Club Play Is Sequel to Beach Comedy

Several seasons ago, Lewis Beach, wrote a play, "The Goose Hangs High," which has since become familiar to play and theatergoers from one coast to the other, having been produced as often by Little Theatres, clubs, and schools as any other modern comedy.

The play has been filmed twice, and it has been produced over coast-to-coast radio broadcast three times, the last one being as late as December, 1939. Almost without exception, directors who have produced "The Goose Hangs High," have asked for another play with the same spirit.

Constant requests have finally persuaded the author to write a sequel, which, although depicting the same family in new situations, requires no knowledge of the former play to enjoy and understand. The sequel, "In a House Like This," will be presented by the Dixon high school dramatic club on Wednesday evening, Nov. 20 in the high school auditorium.

"In a House Like This" is played in the same living room of the Ingals home which was the single setting of "The Goose Hangs High." It begins six months after the end of the earlier play. The twins have now left college and are engaged in an attempt to help revive the depleted family budget.

Bradley is occupied with what is to him (and eventually to the rest of the family) a most important undertaking—the production of a play in the local Little Theatre where he is the director. His leading character actress resigns from the cast, and Bradley conscripts Granny for the part. But he doesn't foresee Granny's enjoying the idea so much or on her developing into a scene-stealer.

The situations arising from this complication are human, entertaining, and almost riotous at the climax when Granny "goes temperamental."

Miss Olga Eneroth is directing the cast of characters.

P-T. A. PROGRAM

The band from the Lincoln grade school in Sterling will entertain members of the Prairieville Parent-Teacher association when they meet at the school at 8 o'clock this evening for a business session and program. Other numbers on the program will include accordion selections by John Mier, an address, a play by the first and second grades, a rhythm demonstration by the primary room, and songs by the students.

HIGHLAND CLUB

Mrs. John Bennett and Mrs. Albert Petit entertained at luncheon last evening at the former's home for members of the Highland Avenue club. Mrs. James E. Curran, Mrs. Hazel Cashion, Mrs. Norman Dietrich, and Mrs. Cecil Hoyle shared score favors at the card tables.

Mrs. Dietrich and Mrs. Mettie Thompson will entertain at a Christmas party for the club members next month.

LUNCHEON HOSTESS

Mrs. C. A. Buchner made reservations for a tea room luncheon for her bridge club of eight today. Afterward, tables were set for contract.

Aged Oregon Woman to Hawaii

Mrs. Mary Van Inwegen of Oregon, sister-in-law of Mrs. G. Van Inwegen of 417 East First street, left San Francisco today aboard the Philippine Clipper for Honolulu, Hawaii, where she will celebrate her eightieth birthday anniversary on Thursday, Nov. 28. The trip on the Clipper from the west coast to Hawaii is the first the Oregon woman has ever taken by plane, according to an Associated Press dispatch received this morning from San Francisco.

Mrs. Van Inwegen left last Thursday for the coast, and had planned to fly to Honolulu yesterday. Press dispatches stated that she would not leave until today, however, due to weather conditions.

A cousin, the Rev. David R. Richardson, 80, who is a retired Congregational pastor, accompanied her to San Francisco and plans to remain in the west for the winter.

Mrs. Van Inwegen will visit a daughter, Mrs. F. L. Turner, while in Honolulu. She resides in Oregon with another daughter, Mildred, who is a music instructor and church organist, and a third daughter, Constance, teaches in the Glencoe schools.

Mrs. Van Inwegen formerly directed a playground in Honolulu. She also formerly operated a farm, managed a coal firm, and taught school.

BERKBIGLER-MOORE BRIDAL IS READ

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Irma Moore, daughter of the Ernest Moores of Mt. Carroll, and Donald R. Borkbiger, recently appointed manager of the Mt. Morris Kroger store. The vows were solemnized at 8:30 a. m. Sunday at the First Baptist church in Freeport, before the Rev. Aubrey P. White.

The bride was dressed in powder blue crepe with black accessories. Tallman roses formed her shoulder corsage.

Miss Virginia Moore, the bride's sister, and Thomas Fritz, both of Mt. Carroll, were the attendants. Miss Moore wore cinnamon crepe, also accented by a corsage of Tallman roses.

The couple are residing in Freeport for the present. The bride, who is a graduate of Mt. Carroll high school, is employed at the Burgess Battery company in Freeport.

Alvin Joiner, Sr., of Polo, Reaches 92

One of Polo's oldest residents, Alvin Joiner, Sr., was observing his ninety-second birthday anniversary today. Because of his ill health, no celebration was planned, although there is to be a dinner for the immediate family on Sunday in his honor.

Mr. Joiner was born Nov. 13, 1848, at Buffalo Grove, near Polo. The Joiner farm, located east of Polo, was settled by Mr. Joiner's father in 1837, and is now occupied by members of the third generation of his family, the junior Alvin Joiners and the Charles Joiners.

Alvin, Jr. and Charles Joiner are sons of the aged man, who also has three daughters, Mrs. John Siddall, Mrs. V. S. Hostetter of Tucson, Ariz., and Mrs. Ralph Bryant of New Haven, Conn.

Mr. Joiner attended Royalton academy in Vermont as a youth, and completed his college education at Hillsdale, Mich. On June 14, 1873, he exchanged marriage vows with Miss Ida Wood, whose death occurred in 1914. In 1930, Mrs. Abbie Gray became his bride.

For 33 years, the Polo man was associated in business with his father, who was a lumberman. He has resided in Polo since 1884.

Wesley Broers of Walnut Will Claim Bride in December

When members of the Kardette club met last evening in Mendota, announcement was made of the engagement of the hostess, Miss Mary Jane Gesslein, to Wesley Broers of Walnut.

News of the couple's December wedding plans was disclosed during the serving of a late supper, following bridge. The party table was a placecard in the form of a messenger boy carrying a card which read: "Mary Jane and Wesley—December."

The bride-to-be, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gesslein, was graduated from Mendota Township high school. Since her graduation, she has been Mendota bureau manager for the Ottawa Republican-Times.

Mr. Broers, a son of Mr. and Mrs. George Boers of Tampico, was graduated from Sterling high school. He is owner of a food locker plant in Manlius, Ill.

After their marriage, the couple will reside in Sterling.

GEORGE WASHINGTON SAID:

"Excessive partiality for one foreign nation and excessive dislike of another cause those whom they actuate to see danger only on one side, and serve to well and even second the arts of influence on the other. Real patriots who may resist the intrigues of the favorite are liable to become suspected and odious, while its tools and dupes usurp the applause and confidence of the people to surrender their interests." From the Farewell Address.

Time Answers Questions

Circumstantial evidence indicates that slavery sentiment was quite strong in Alton, Ill., 103 years ago this month.

An editor named Elijah P. Lovejoy had been engaged for some time in publishing a church-sponsored newspaper which advocated freedom for the slaves. Several times enraged pro-slavery townsmen broke into the Lovejoy establishment, destroyed the printing press and threatened the editor.

Each time Lovejoy, with the aid of friends, bought a new press and resumed his campaign.

At last—on Nov. 7, 1837, a mob arrived at an old warehouse used by Lovejoy as his headquarters and tried to set fire to the place. Lovejoy was preparing to fire at a torch bearer when a bullet ended his life. His body, we read, was thrown into the river.

As suggested, there is evidence to indicate that slavery sentiment was strong in Alton. Otherwise public authorities would have made short work of suppressing a gang bent on destruction of property of any sort, especially after the gang had been at work for some time.

The question at that time—as now—was not whether a majority of the people in Alton favored slavery. The question was on the rightness and wrongness of slavery. Eternal verities were involved.

Lovejoy could have followed one of four courses in writing on the slavery issue.

He could have favored slavery on the theory that if a majority of people in his community favored it, then slavery was right.

He could have ignored the issue and not mentioned it at all.

He could have come out boldly against slavery.

Or he could have pussyfooted. Pussyfooting, if we may tangle metaphors, is a system of sitting on the fence so skillfully that the editor's position can not be defined. Lovejoy could have written so confusingly that his stand would have been of no benefit either to slaves or abolitionists—and worse still, of no benefit to the slaves.

Lovejoy was not yellow. He hated slavery. He was an honest man, so there was only one policy to follow. It cost him his life because there were not enough abolitionists in Alton to force his protection and defend freedom of the press.

Today it would be hard to find in Alton a man who believes in slavery.

It is impossible to believe that Lovejoy was wrong in 1837, when he couldn't raise a corporal's guard to protect himself, and right today, when everybody in Alton follows what he was murdered for preaching.

Time answers most of such questions.

Slattery Wants a Recount

C. Wayland Brooks defeated James M. Slattery in last week's contest for the United States Senate. Brooks' victory was by such a narrow margin that Mr. Slattery thinks something crooked must have taken place. How could a Republican defeat a Democrat unless by crookery? That, it seems, is what Mr. Slattery wants to know.

A Republican majority isn't much of a victory unless it can be proved. A recount wouldn't be a bad thing. Not only in the Chicago area, but downstate as well.

Mr. Slattery is upset because he expected to clinch his position in certain Chicago wards, which, surprisingly, failed to do much for him.

It was in those very wards that Republican watchers were stationed. They were stationed there with the warning that they would be insulted, shoved around, perhaps beaten; that they would have to stand in one spot for hours on end without a recess. So there they stood, just watching, and there Mr. Slattery met his Waterloo—at least on the first count.

Not the End of Polls

It is surprising how some of the polls on the election could be so wide of the mark, and still so close to hitting it.

David Lawrence, a veteran forecaster who did not conduct a poll, but had what was in effect a polling system, hit the mark six times in a row on national elections, and then fell flat on the seventh.

Emil Hurja, editor of Pathfinder magazine and former statistician for the Democrat party, hit the nail on the head in 1936, but hit his thumb this time.

The Gallup poll was right in a way, but still wrong. It forecast an extremely close vote. The vote was reasonably close numerically, but the electoral reflection of that vote is lop-sided.

There are others, but those mentioned are fair samples that prove how unpredictable our people are.

There has been talk of congressional plans to curb polltakers, although it has not been proved that the taking of polls does any damage to the body politic. There was a theory that if a poll shows one candidate far ahead of the other, a lot of people will rush to climb on the band wagon. But in this instance the Gallup poll was so close there wasn't any bandwagon in sight. The Hurja sampling gave a commanding lead to Willkie, but the people didn't climb on that wagon—nor on David Lawrence's.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON

(Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc., reproduction in whole or in part strictly prohibited.)

Washington, Nov. 12.—No matter what else happens, business is going to expand. Everyone should soon be making money, more money than in many a year. Expansion should continue gradually until it reaches a pitch 12 or 18 months hence which will represent the highest productivity attained in the history of man.

The defense program has hardly started. Only $500,000,000 was spent in the first quarter of the government fiscal year covering July, August and September. That amount will be doubled for the second quarter, October, November, December. In the coming third quarter, I think it will be around $1,500,000,000 and in the fourth nearly $2,000,000,000. But this is still only the beginning—about $5,000,000,000 for this fiscal year.

The next fiscal year, starting in July will be the big one, doubling the outlay again, to $10,000,000,000. By July, expenditures for defense alone should be running about $600,000,000 to $700,000,000 a month and continue increasing until reaching nearly a billion a month.

How much acceleration this means is apparent in the fact that expenditures for this current November will be only $300,000,000, which is less than a third of the peak planned.

While these expenditures will go mostly into defense they will seep down into every crevice of trade in the country and bring an era of free-flowing money beyond all previous economists' dreams. The only thing that can stop it is a British victory. Any other kind of a peace in Europe would not diminish the necessity of rearming.

What happens when the spending is over is not clear. I have never found a spending theorist who could tell me what the end of the theory is.

Accompanying the movement, I believe there will be a gradual but equally extreme expansion of centralized government controls and a corresponding trend away from ordinary democratic methods. Business is destined to be regulated more and more as to prices, profits, production, labor, finance. The nucleus of some control is already apparent in the regulations and powers of the National Defense Commission.

But there are many more plans formulated by individual officials and economists within the government for controlling everything from excess bank reserves to employer-labor conversations.

The working theory of the government, I think, is that modern warfare is largely economic, that the factories are the front lines now, that the government is putting up the money and must go into production itself where private business does not handle the job satisfactorily.

As one nationally known economist (Babson) told his business readers in a post-election letter: "You're in the army now. You may not wear a uniform or work a machine gun. But you're in the army now."

Discussions about mending the Johnson act for Britain alone and thus opening up credits to her are starting privately among responsible officials.

British now have unfilled orders for more than $125,000,000 in this country. They are planning another large aircraft purchasing program and developing a scheme to build shipyards in our ports. These two items may bring her commitments up to about $3,000,000,000 (shipyards cost money).

That would take her pretty close to the limit of her resources on this side. She has a little more than $3,000,000,000 in available dollar balances, securities, etc., which will be enough to carry her many months more.

But there is no disposition among interested officials to wait until the last minute to seek legislation. The matter will, I think, be laid before congress officially in January, while post-election fervor is still hot.

Repeal of the "carry" restriction in the neutrality act is, however, a different proposition. It is true the Germans have caused the British much worry over a probable shortage of bottoms, and some pressure has consequently arisen to send our ships to Britain with supplies. But the navy objects strenuously to this.

The ships would have to be convoyed. It would mean yanking some of the fleet from the Pacific. It would put us more inextricably into the war.

The British may ask for our "carry" ships, but probably only as a lever to pry credits loose.

Finance Director Refuses to Change Exemption Ruling

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 13.—(AP)—State Finance Director A. M. Carter announced today that he had refused Attorney General John E. Cassidy's demand to revoke a regulation exempting contractors and building supply dealers from payment of the state sales tax.

Carter said in a statement that "I resent the implication that this rule was not made in good faith."

The finance director said he had notified Attorney General Cassidy, who was in Chicago, of his decision by telephone. Cassidy yesterday indicated he would take immediate court action if the rule was not rescinded.

Carter's statement said: "Today I notified Attorney General Cassidy that I have decided, after due deliberation, not to abrogate rule 6 as revised."

"Only the court can decide whether the rule is right or wrong and I intend to leave decision on this matter up to Judge Fisher (Harry M. Fisher of the Cook County Circuit court) in whose court the case is pending and has been for 20 months."

"I earnestly desire a decision that will settle this question of law once and for all. That means I advocate an appeal to the Supreme court for final decision."

Claims "New Problem"

"I resent the implication that this rule was not made in good faith. If certain individuals had exercised as much concern over this matter during the past 20 months as they have in the past 10 days this question would have been settled long ago."

The attorney general renewed his demand for abrogation of the sales tax ruling—which resulted in the protest resignations of two tax division officials who said the ruling opened the way for refunds of $700,000 to material companies—at a 90-minute conference called yesterday by Governor Stelle.

Tax officials estimated that the ruling would slash from $1,000,000 to $10,000,000 from the state's annual revenue.

Cassidy disputed Stelle's contention that the sales tax ruling was made to "force" an early decision in a Cook County Circuit court case testing legality of the sales tax on contractors and building supply dealers.

The attorney general said "new problem has been created" by the sales tax ruling and must be settled before the original suit is decided.

Stelle "Responsible"

Stelle, who took "full responsibility" for the sales tax rescission at a press conference last Saturday, refused to comment on Director Carter's announcement that he would ignore Cassidy's demand.

The text of the sales tax rule revision follows: "Persons who sell materials to contractors or sub-contractors for use by them in the construction, erection or repair of buildings, foundations, roads or other improvements shall not from Nov. 1, 1940, be liable for tax with respect to their gross receipts from the sales of such materials. Contractors and sub-contractors to whom such materials are sold are not subject to tax with respect to their receipts from labor and materials furnished by them under contracts to improve real estate."

"Contractors and sub-contractors who furnish and install fixtures shall not from Nov. 1, 1940, be liable for tax with respect to the selling price of such fixtures."

"Persons other than contractors and sub-contractors who sell materials and fixtures to real estate owners for use by them in the construction, erection or repair of buildings, foundations, roads or other improvements are liable for tax with respect to gross receipts from sales of such materials."

Deaths

Suburban—RICHARD BOKER

Oregon, Nov. 13.—Richard Boker, native and life-long resident of Foreston, passed away at 10:20 o'clock Tuesday night at the Warmoths clinic here, where he had submitted to a major operation Saturday. Funeral arrangements had not been completed this afternoon and will be announced later.

Mr. Boker was born Nov. 6, 1863, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Boker. He is survived by four daughters, Mrs. Ralph Thomas and Mrs. Elmer Riley of Oregon; Mrs. George Gronewald of Foreston; and Mrs. Ernest Brinker of Mount Morris; four sons, William, Ollie, Joseph, and John of Foreston; fifteen grandchildren; two brothers, Klass and John Boker, both of Foreston; and two sisters, Mrs. Lena Buss of Parkersburg, Ia. and Mrs. Grace Buss of Mitchell, S. D. His wife preceded him in death in 1921.

Vote in Jackson, Mich. Challenged in Court

Jackson, Mich., Nov. 13.—(AP)—Charging that some Democrats seeking to vote a straight ticket were disfranchised because of the way in which voting machines were adjusted, Joseph Zwierding, former Assistant Attorney General of Michigan, challenged today in circuit court the vote cast in the city of Jackson.

His suit in behalf of Raymond W. Starr, Grand Rapids Democrat who trailed his Republican opponent by a narrow margin in unofficial returns, named the Jackson county canvassing board as defendants.

The bill of complaint charged that instructions telling Democrats how to vote a straight ticket were inadequate, and that there were no such machine obstacles to voting a straight Republican ticket. In order to register a straight Democratic vote, it was necessary for the voter to pull that lever first before voting on a non-partisan judicial candidate.

Circuit Judge Benjamin Williams ordered a hearing for November 19.

Green Talks With FDR; Discuss "Labor Peace"

Washington, Nov. 13.—(AP)—William Green discussed prospects of "labor peace" with President Roosevelt today and said afterward he had assured the chief executive that a committee for the American Federation of Labor would be "glad" to meet with one from the C. I. O. to resume peace negotiations.

Green, A. F. of L. president, said he thought there had been "some improvement" in prospects that organized labor would close ranks since negotiating committees broke off discussions months ago.

He attributed this improvement to a stronger sentiment among the rank and file of union members, and to what he said was a belief that John L. Lewis, the C. I. O. chairman, does not exercise "quite the same influence among the rank and file that he did when negotiations were carried on before."

Case is Closed Against Men Charged With Fraud In Alcohol Tax Laws

Grand Rapids, Mich., Nov. 13.—(AP)—The government today closed its case against 19 men charged with conspiring to violate the alcohol tax laws when the remaining four respondents, on trial before Federal Judge Fred M. Raymond, unexpectedly changed their pleas to guilty.

Fifteen others already had pleaded guilty to the charges. Those who pleaded guilty today were Angelo Anedo, 49, Chicago; Philip Bacino, 38, Joseph Farara, 45, and Giuseppe Grassi, 35, all of Calumet City, Ill.

The government charged the 19 persons manufactured and distributed untaxed alcohol in Michigan, Illinois, Indiana and Ohio, allegedly evading the payment of $147,000 in taxes.

Death of Wesley Eberly Probed by Lee Coroner's Jury

Wesley Eberly, aged Franklin Grove resident, passed away at the Dixon public hospital Tuesday morning at 9:20 o'clock, his death resulting from a skull fracture and complications following an automobile accident which occurred about a half mile north of Franklin Grove on the Oregon road on morning of Oct. 28. At an inquest conducted at the Jones funeral home yesterday afternoon a coroner's jury determined that death resulted from the skull fracture.

Ernest G. Hartzell who lives three miles northwest of Franklin Grove was the driver of the car which overturned injuring both men. At the inquest, Hartzell testified that he met Eberly in Franklin Grove on the morning of Oct. 28 and together they started for the former's home, leaving the village about 10:30 o'clock and followed a combine which was to start harvesting the soy bean crop at the Hartzell farm.

Story of Accident

About a half mile north of Franklin Grove on the Oregon road, Hartzell said that he applied the brakes on his car. The machine swerved to the left side of the road and turned over in the ditch. Hartzell suffered a fracture of the left forearm and other bruises and both occupants of the machine were taken to the Dixon public hospital. Mr. Hartzell was released after his injuries had been dressed and returned to his home. His passenger remained in the hospital until his death Tuesday morning.

Funeral services for Mr. Eberly will be held at the Hicks funeral home in Franklin Grove at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon.

Church Societies

Thanksgiving Party—Thirty-five young people of the Brethren Sunday school attended Monday evening's Thanksgiving party at the parsonage. The first storm of the winter failing to dull their thankfulness for blessings during the past year, Miss Viola Butterbaugh, president of the young people's department, conducted a brief business meeting before members of the entertainment committee took charge. Mrs. Galen Mveit and Orville Brindle led the games, which were followed by refreshments served by Alice Sheller and Harriet McWethy.

W. M. S.—Mrs. John Nurnberg will be hostess to the St. James Missionary society on Thursday.

Class Meeting—The Shepherd class of Grace Evangelical church will meet at 7:30 p. m. Thursday. A one-act comedy, "Uncle Bob's Boy," will be presented by visitors from Sterling.

The hostess committee includes Mesdames Murray Ventling, Reuben Winebrenner and Wilbert Boynton.

Upstreamers—Members of the Upstreamers class will meet at the church for a scramble supper at 5:30 p. m. Thursday.

Lodges

A. F. & A. M.—A stated meeting of Friendship lodge No. 7, A. F. & A. M., will be held at the Masonic Temple Thursday night at 7:30 o'clock. The third degree will be conferred at the close of the stated. Refreshments will be served.

Royal Neighbors will meet in the Woodman hall at 8 o'clock Thursday evening.

Funerals

Suburban—MRS. ANNA K. FORSTER

(Telegraph Special Service)
Mendota, Nov. 13.—Funeral services for Mrs. Anna K. Forster of Streator, formerly of Mendota and Tonic, who died Friday at her home 107 West Wilson street, Streator, were held at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon from the residence with Rev. E. W. Smith, pastor of the Park Presbyterian church in charge. Burial was made in Mendota.

A daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Klucker, was born in Mendota and resided in this city until her marriage to the late George H. Forster which occurred in September 1900.

They established their home in Tonic where Mr. Forster was postmaster and owner and manager of a drug store. They resided there until 1921 when Mr. Forster's connection with the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois necessitated their living in Streator.

As a member of the Presbyterian church, a member of the Woman's club and the Twentieth Century club, the past worthy matrons of the Eastern Star and past worthy high priestess of the White Shrine, Mrs. Forster gave freely of her time and ability in the interests of these organizations.

Surviving are a son, George R. Forster of Memphis, Tenn., a sister, Mrs. Minnie Geiger of Mendota and a brother, A. G. Klucker of Chicago.

GUSTAV BAUMAN

(Telegraph Special Service)
Gustav Bauman, aged 76, lifelong resident of Mendota died at 2 o'clock Monday morning at St. Ann's hospital in Chicago, where he had been a patient since Thursday. Death was attributed to pneumonia.

Mr. Bauman and wife had been visiting their son, Henry in Chicago when he became ill. The deceased was born on a farm near Mendota, June 8, 1864, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Bauman. Surviving are his widow and five children, Arthur, Mt. Prospect; Henry, Chicago; Mrs. Walter Krenz, Mendota; Mrs. Emil Florschuetz, Mendota; Mrs. Walter Florschuetz, Mendota; a brother, George Bauman, Mendota, and a sister, Mrs. John Zimmerman of Compton.

Funeral services were held this afternoon at the Brooklyn Lutheran church with Rev. J. L. Gresham in charge.

The People Speak; Buck Tells Board Members His Plans

YESTERDAY: Helen suggests they enlist the "people" to get Buck a hearing. Bill will ask the sports editor to help. Bill considers before mailing the letter. If Buck stays in his chair, remains fairly quiet, the operation may succeed. If he drives a car, calls on prospects, selling cameras, chances are against him. Bill doesn't mail the letter.

CHAPTER IX

BILL MENTOR climbed the stairs to the editorial rooms of the Clarion. He asked for Pat Hurly and was shown a wisp of a man with flaming red hair.

"My name's Mentor, Mr. Hurly."

"Mentor?" He frowned. "Oh, yes, I've got it now. Buck Mentor. You're his son?"

"Yes, sir."

"Good man, Buck. Used to worship him when I was a kid. Well, what is it you want of me?"

Bill said earnestly, "I heard you mention Buck one night in the stadium. You said West would have won if Buck'd been coaching."

"Or anyone else but that idiot, Landis," Hurly growled. "Skelton and Peskin must have picked him up at a bargain counter. I was just urging those gentlemen in my column to go out this time and hire some real brains."

"Buck's got real brains," Bill said.

Hurly straightened in his chair. "So that's why you're here? Want me to push your dad for the job?"

DE MOLAY BOWLING PARTY

As part of the active sports program planned by the Dixon chapter, Order of DeMolay, the members enjoyed an evening of bowling at the Dixon Recreation last night. Harold Cook was in charge of the event. Some of the boys, bowling for the first time, showed excellent promise and their enthusiasm has led them to plan another similar event for next Tuesday evening. Those rolling games last night and their pin-falling scores were as follows: E. Shaw 104-113; G. Omen 89-74-68; N. Auman 71-125; W. Newman 175-124-106 (for the evening's top honors); D. Coakley 92-108-130; E. Frazer 116-96-133; Dale Cramer 110-80-105; J. Marshall 94-88-133; Bob Sanborn 80-103-171; B. McNamera 105-153-113; Bill Thompson 88-109-88; J. Buchanan 137; P. Reynolds 117-90-121; Eller 95-147-104; Rummel 98-74; Bates 115-106-147; Knack 100-95-130; Hawker 131-103-139; Ferger 145-102-106; Portland 79-109-97; Hoyle 180-145-123.

GAME IS CALLED OFF

The DeKalb-Sycamore football game originally scheduled for Armistice Day and then postponed until last night, has been called off for the season. Each school will open its basketball season on November 29 and will concentrate on that sports event starting this week.

WORLEY HAS AVERAGE OF 196

Still heading the big 16-team Classic League is Eddie Worley who holds the highest bowling average in the city with 196 for 27 games. Tonight the big circuit rolls its eleven week of game and other high leglers are Lessner with 178 in 27 games; Daschbach with 181 for 30 games; Davis with 179 for 27 games; Klein with 186 for 27 games; Detweiler with 179 for six games; Wolfe with 183 for 20 games; Breeding with 182 for 15 games; Becker with 179 for 30 games.

COMPOSITE PERCENTAGES

Of the six guest football pickers thus far in the season, the boys have scored an average of .730 which is excellent forecasting in anybody's league. Earl James and Jim Dominetta still top the list with .789 with James E. Bales and Ed Worley still to be heard from.

HARTNETT HUNTS IN LEE COUNTY

Frank McCormick, First Sacker for Reds, Voted Most Valuable Player of National League for Past Year

By JUDSON BAILEY

New York, Nov. 13.—(AP)—Frank McCormick, sturdy first baseman for the World Champion Cincinnati Reds, was the National League's most valuable player in 1940, a committee for the Baseball Writers' Association of America announced today.

The tall, good-looking youngster from New York, who joined the Reds three years ago and has played in each of their games since, didn't have his best season, but it was a good one, and vital to the Reds.

He hit .309 and drove in 127 runs, as compared with a 1939 batting average of .322 and 128 runs batted in.

Last year, he was rated fourth in the annual batting by 24 veteran baseball scribes, three from each National League city. This year he was first, getting 16 of the 24 votes for first place and 274 points, 69 more than Johnny Mize, slugging first sacker of the St. Louis Cardinals, who also was second in 1939.

The reason for the rise of McCormick in contradiction of the figures in the record books is easily apparent. Last year, the Reds captured the pennant on marvelous pitching, but this year their hurling was less effective, and they repeated on tight defensive play and the ability to punch across runs at the right time.

Best Defensive First Baseman—This was where McCormick figured—the best defensive first baseman in the league, second only to Mize in runs batted in, the leader in doubles and tied for the lead in total hits. He gave the Reds their pennant punch.

McCormick was the third consecutive Cincinnati player to be voted the honor.

In 1938, Catcher Ernie Lombardi led the league in batting and was named most valuable; last year, Pitcher Bucky Walters led in victories and earned the most valuable designation.

One reason McCormick did not dominate the annual poll this year was Walters did last was the competition of his own teammates. No fewer than five of the Reds received votes. Five others were accorded honorable mention, and in the final compilation of points Walters rated third with 146 and Paul Derringer, fourth with 121.

Voting Has No Surprises

The balloting produced no particular surprises and ran the gamut of stars of the league's eight clubs. Cincinnati's Fred Fitzsimmons, Brooklyn's veteran knuckleballer, who led in percentage of victories with a record of 16 and

THREE DEUCES IN FIRST PLACE; WIN SERIES LAST EVE

Plum Hollow and Royal Blue Now Tied For Second in League

Take "Three" for the series they swept from the Post Office and add "Deuces" for the two teams they hopped to reach first place, and you have Doug Curran's boys upsetting the apple cart at the Dixon Recreation bowling alleys last night.

Curran paced his mates with a 481 series as they became the leaders of the City League last night and Miller's 487 was tops for the mailmen.

Plum Hollow and Myers Royal Blue, tied for first place after last week's firing, dropped into a tie for second place. The Plum Hollow pinnies lost two games to the Boynton-Richards five. Hackett counted a 545 series for the clothiers and Lair rolled 538 to lead the golfers.

Strub & Schultz won two games from the Myers Royal Blue with Charlie Davis leading the service crew with a 528 series and McClanahan rolling 450 to pace the losers.

Reynolds Wire won two games from Fallstrom's Florists as Riddbauer picked up a 518 series for the winners and Fallstrom led his mates with 479.

No new records were set last night. High games included those of: Hoover 208; Hackett 208; Lair 210; Davis 219.

President Expresses Thanks to Well Wishers in Public Statement
Washington, Nov. 13.—(AP)—President Roosevelt, in a telegram acknowledging congratulatory messages on his election to a third term, expressed today "determination to work shoulder to shoulder with all who place true Americanism above all other considerations."

The chief executive said that some of the messages contained pledges of loyalty and support from men and women who voted against the administration and "these messages, in particular," he asserted, "reflect a spirit of national unity in essential things which is most welcome."

Gophers May Not Lead Statistics; But Are Unbeaten

By TOM SILER

Chicago, Nov. 13.—(AP)—Pessimistic note (attention Northwestern and Michigan): Joe Mernik, whose handy toe gave Minnesota victories over the Wildcats and Wolverines, has another year to play. Now that the Gophers have been voted the No. 1 team of the nation, latest reading, the Gophers are in action tossing figures around to show that Bernie Bierman's boys aren't even the class of the Western Conference. The detractors point out that Ohio State probably would have whipped the Gophers but for that fumble on the one-yard line on first down. They write off the Northwestern defeat to sloppy playclimbing by the Wildcats and account for the Michigan loss by attributing the outcome to sloppy weather which shackled Harmon.

No hum, the fact remains, Minnesota is undefeated and undefeated, although statistically speaking, they show the way only in net yardage rushing.

Smith Leads As Gainer
Bruce Smith of Minnesota moved ahead of Iowa's Bill Green as the leading ground gainer with 324 yards in four games. Ollie Hahnstein of Northwestern leads the passers and runners, accounting for a total of 422 yards, 219 rushing and 203 passing. Ohio State's Charles Anderson leads pass receivers with 10 catches, one more than LaVerne Astroth, Illinois. Dick Good, Illinois sophomore, has completed 18 passes in 35 attempts in two league games while Hal Hursh, Indiana veteran, has connected for 22 of 45 throws in three games.

Notre Dame supporters were considerably less than elated over the officiating in the Navy game. Coach Elmer Layden is concentrating this week on re-establishing Notre Dame's running attack which was strangely lacking in the Army and Navy games. The Gaels view with some misgivings Iowa's fine showing against a strong Nebraska eleven.

Line Coach George Hauser of Minnesota says Helge Pukema, the fiery Finn of Duluth, has been his most consistently brilliant lineman. Northwestern needs a victory over Michigan Saturday, not only to keep alive its slim title hopes, but also to even the all-time series with the Wolverines. Wisconsin's senior end, Cliff Phillips, will not play against Indiana Saturday because of a bruised knee. The two top teams in the conference, Minnesota and Northwestern, have registered fewer first downs than their league opponents.

Find No Evidence of Foul Play in Death of 2-Year-Old Georgia Boy
Cartersville, Ga., Nov. 13.—(AP)—A coroner's jury said it found "no evidence of foul play" in the death of two-year-old Murray Upshaw, Jr., whose body was found on a rugged mountainside yesterday a mile and a half from his north Georgia farm home.

The jury of five physicians and a dentist returned a verdict that the sandy-haired boy died of "exhaustion and exposure" about 70 hours before searchers found his body, face downward, under a pine tree.

The child and his pet terrier "Nickie" disappeared from the house yard last Friday. The dog returned home Monday morning, dry and clean despite week-end rains. Its condition led Sheriff George Gaddis to express belief that the boy might have been kidnapped.

Searchers said leaves and pine twigs near the body indicated that the child's pet had bedded down beside his master for a time at least.

Sports Roundup

By EDDIE BRIETZ

New York, Nov. 13.—(AP)—GOSSIPY GOSSIP: Henry Armstrong, who'll retire soon, quietly is assembling a stable of fighters. Tennessee prefers a Sugar Bowl bid to one from the coast. Don Budge has regained the 15 pounds he lost when that illness knocked him for a loop, but he still is in a bad humor. He's beefing because his new gas buggy rattles when he hits 115 M. P. H. Carl Snavely and Dick Harlow are such close pals they exchange strategic formations once a week during the season. And Fritz Zivic has offered to bet Al Davis $1,000 he haymakers Al in seven stanzas, or less.

OBSERVATION WARD—Auburn is trying to "Bring 'em Back Alive" Buck to help coach the Plainsmen in their last four games—against the Tigers, Eagles, Gators and Wildcats. Those daffy Dodgers have sent questionnaires to all their pitchers, asking how they would throw to the first 25 hitters in the National League. The engineer who runs the choo choo on the railroad alongside the Michigan stadium has agreed to take the boot out of his whistle while the Harmons drill for Northwestern. Are the Harmons putting or punting?

ANCHORS AWAY—Usually our Navy advances over the seas, through the air, or under the waves in submarines. But against Columbia this week, the Navy, for the first time, will advance underground—via the New York subway. How about a big hand for Adam Walsh, one of the famous "Seven Mules" of Notre Dame—in six years at Bowdoin college he has won the state title three times and tied for it the other three.

HERE IT IS! Of course, it had to come. But Dick Cull, Jr., of Dayton, O., is first under the wire with the suggestion that the 1941 Indians be dubbed "Peck's Bad Boys."

PASSEAU KEEPS CROWN AS NO. 1 HOME RUN STOPPER
Hardest pitcher in the National League to hit a homer "offa"?

The name is Claude Passeau, Chicago Cubs. If you asked the same question a year ago, it's the same answer. In 1939 Passeau allowed 9 homers in 274 innings, a rate of one every 30½ innings he pitched. This was tops for the 18 National League pitchers who worked 10 or more complete games during the Centennial pennant race.

This year tall Claude fortified his homer-hampering championship by pitching more innings than yesterday with less homers attached. Namely, 281 and 8. One homer every 35.1 innings! One about every 3 games!

That's pitching! Passeau and Derringer were the National League's only 20-game winners. Bucky (22-wins) Walters was the only ace topping them in triumphs. When it came to homers, tall Claude from old Miss stood way ahead of the renowned Redleg "One-Two" combination.

His homer-hamper angle on top of winning 20 games for a 5th place club made it a great year for Claude. He did more pitching than any man in the league except Walters and Derringer. He had only 9 less strikeouts than Kirby Higbe's league-leading 128. He had 4 shutouts (5 was tops).

If your opposition can count on only one homer every 3 games you're in the driver's seat. In Passeau's case, most opposition couldn't count on even that much havoc, because 5 of the 8 homers off him were Brooklyn Dodger dings. Against the rest of the

Oregon Bowlers Defeat Dixon in Match Sunday

Dixon's Three Deuces, a bowling quintet which last night won three games to take the lead in the City League here, lost a match game at the new Oregon alleys Sunday, 2213 to 2156.

McLennan led the winners with a 482 series and Curran was high for the Dixon pinnies with 484.

Wisconsin Will Meet Indiana in Game Saturday

The University of Wisconsin football squad arrived in Madison from New York City Monday afternoon but the Badgers took the rest of the Armistice Day off and did not begin intensive preparations for their battle with Indiana until Tuesday.

The Badgers came through the Columbia contest in good shape. Tom Farris received a hump on the head but he sustained no bad effects. Paul Hirsbrunner's first quarter leg injury recovered sufficiently so that the sophomore tackle returned to action later in the game, so it is probable that he will be able to go against the Hoosiers.

Cliff Philip, senior left end whose charleyhorse kept him from making the New York trip, is still in the infirmary, so it is doubtful if he will be ready for action Saturday. However, he improved greatly over the week-end.

Hoosiers' Impressive Win
Indiana's impressive win over Michigan State last Saturday has made the Badgers more aware than ever of the aerial power that the Hoosiers possess. They had a good look at Hurling Hal Hursh's work last fall on Camp Randall and know him to be an exceptionally dangerous pass heater. The Badgers still want to keep their conference victory string going, so there will be no letdown on Camp Randall this week.

The Indiana eleven has fared much better against common opponents. They defeated Iowa 10-6 while the Hawkeyes were able to give the Badgers a 30-12 beating. The Hoosiers forced Northwestern to put in a brilliant fourth quarter rally in order to achieve victory while the Wildcats handily beat the Badgers.

The Wisconsin has come a long way since losing its first two conference contests. It will be a much better eleven Saturday than it was a month ago. The sophomores have come along at a remarkable pace to close the gap between them and the outstanding seniors. Right now, the Wisconsin eleven is a well-oiled unit. With its win over Michigan State, so is Indiana. The meeting of the two teams should furnish one of the most exciting afternoons of the Wisconsin home schedule.

Any discussion about passers ought to include Paul Christman of Missouri and John Supulski of Manhattan. Christman completed 10 of 20 against Colorado, two of them for touchdowns, and scored Missouri's other touchdown himself. Supulski, who has completed 49 of 102 this season, completed seven in a row against Marquette to set up the winning touchdown in their wild and woolly 45-41 duel.

Once more, it was Junie Hovius and Merle Hayes for Mississippi in the rout of Holy Cross. It is doubtful whether any team in the land has two such talented backfield performers.

Among other backfield aces who attracted attention last week were: Juzwick and Saggau, Notre Dame, Frank, Minnesota; Richardson, Marquette; Petty, Purdue; Wilder and Darling, Iowa State; Green, Iowa; Hahnstein, Northwestern; Hursh, Indiana; and Zoeller, Kentucky.

Cleveland Passeau permitted only 3 all season, one by Chet Ross, Bee's swashbuckling strapping June 7, Joe (Giants) Moore's June 11 clout and a sentimental slam July 29 by Joe Marty, who travelled to the Phillies in the same deal that sent Passeau from Phils to Cubs in '39.

Dolf Camilli and Babe Phelps can claim they each hit 2 homers this year against the hardest home run hazard in the league. The apex exploit triumph of the Brooks in this very specialized specialty was staged August 4.

The toughest home run pitcher in the league held a 6-5 lead over the Dodgers going into the last of the 9th at Ebbets field, Brooklyn. Up comes Peevée Reese, whose single in the 6th had scored 2 runs to cut the Cub lead to the minimum. Up comes Peevée in the 9th and hides one in the left-field bottom drawer.

It gets to the 11th, still tie, Two out. Up comes Camilli, who on June 3 hit the first homer of the year allowed by Passeau, old hard-to-crack Claude. Up comes Camilli and sails the ball into Bedford avenue—7 to 6, Dodgers.

Anderson of Losers Leads Scoring in Varsity Game

Ashton cagers gave Leo Stenback, Steward high school's new basketball coach a warm reception last night in the season's debut, but insisted in taking all the honors. The Ashton hosts won all three games and took the varsity contest 34 to 27.

Each team counted ten field goals, but the over-anxious Steward lads ran somewhat wild with 19 fouls on which Ashton counted ten points to win. The Aces committed only seven infractions.

The hosts took the lead by a one point margin, 7 to 6, in the first period and never lost the advantage. The half ended 20 to 16 and Steward outscored the rivals, 6 to 4, in the third period to trail by two points at the end of the stanza, 24 to 22.

Scoring Honors
Forward Anderson of the losers who counted five field goals and two gift shots for 12 tallies. E. Calhoun led the losers with ten points. Coach Vaux of Ashton used only five men in the game, all of which scored two points or more.

In the lightweight game the Ashton team won, 25 to 6 and the Ashton graders won their game, 24 to 17.

The excellent Ashton high school drill team and band performed between halves of the varsity contest.

WOMAN'S CLUB TO HEAR BOOK REVIEW

Mrs. W. S. McColey will present the second in the season's series of book reviews sponsored by the Dixon Woman's club, at 3:30 p. m. Friday in the Dixon high school music room.
Mrs. McColey will review two books, Jan Struthers' "Mrs. Min-ner," and Phyllis Bottoms' "The Heart of a Child." She will use these novels to illustrate a lecture which she has entitled "An Antidote for War".

BIRTHDAY CLUB
Birthday anniversaries of Mrs.
John Nelles and Mrs. Robert
Stanley were celebrated Tuesday evening by members of the Happy Birthday club at the former's home, 608 Van Buren avenue. A series of games preceded a birthday lunch.
Gifts were brought by the guests, who were Mrs. W. D. Milliken, Mrs. John Miller, Mrs. Curtis Pittman, Mrs. Roy Kiser, Mrs.
E. B. Ryan, Mrs. Theodore Mason,
Mrs. Leazel Sitter, Mrs. Olive
Bradford, Mrs. Bon Sitter, and Miss Louise Johnson.
A benefit dance for charity,
with members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce as sponsors, is in prospect for the holiday season, following a dinner meeting of the organization last evening at Grand Detour.
Clyde Yount was named as chairman of a committee to consider plans for the charity ball.
His assistants are Robert Bovey,
John Cahill, and Clarence Vroeg-indewey.
Sixteen members were present
last evening, and two new members, Kent Stuart and Joseph Trimble, were introduced. John
Shaulis, the president, presided.

NACHUSA UNIT
Mrs. Clarence Bothe will be hostess at an all-day meeting of the Nachusa Home Bureau unit on Friday.
BAKER TELL
Members of Anna Kellogg Baker tent, No. 81, Daughters of Union
Veterans, will meet at 2:30 p. m.
Thursday in the G. A. R. hall.
Business of special significance
will be discussed.

Miss Jean Lindberg has returned from a brief visit in Chicago, during which she attended the Illinois-Northwestern football game and visited Turkey
Run Indiana state park.
GOLF ENTHUSIASTS
During 1939, 2,162,000 American men, women and children walked 258,000,000 miles while playing golf on the 500 public and private golf courses in the United States,
according to estimates.
Nevada's 1940 population showed a 20.3 per cent gain over 1930.

D. C. Holman, geologist from the University of Illinois, who is stationed at the drilling site on the Frank Baird farm, north of VanOrin, is making a detailed study of the operations and tests are being forwarded to the geological department at the university for recording. The test well, he stated to a Telegraph representative, is being conducted upon the most scientific lines of any well which has ever been drilled in the northern section of Illinois and the success of the operation will be of great value to geologists.

how they fought a "hopeless"
two-hour battle with a powerful German raider in mid-Atlantic and saved three-fourths of their 38-ship convoy.
The British Admiralty refuted
Nazi claims that the entire convoy was destroyed in the attack Nov.
5, reported 24 of the ships had reached port, five were known to be safe, and said "it is possible" that some of the others might turn up later.
Sixty-five of the crew of the Jervis Bay, most of them nursing wounds, were picked up by a Swedish freighter in the convoy after they stood by their guns while their battered cruiser caught fire, listed from a hole below the waterline and then began to sink.
The British Admiralty credited their "giant action" with drawing the fire of the more heavily armed and armored raider until most of the convoy's ships could escape behind a smokescreen.

Help Bowels

Eliminate That Waste Regularly

Contains Nothing Drastic

In these days of worry, nervous strain and faulty habits, it is no wonder the stomach sometimes gets cramped and clogged bowels often "try out" for help. Then more laxatives alone may fail to bring prompt relief. When you feel low, nervous and tired out, what you may need is to stimulate the stomach and bowels in their digestive and eliminative functions. You can do it with Dr. Peter Jauregui's genuine stomachic tonic prescription called ALPEN KRAUTER.

ALPEN KRAUTER is more than just a laxative. It is carefully compounded from 18 different medicinal roots, herbs and botanicals. Just a tablespoonful two before breakfast and upon retiring works to help restore normal function, aids and speeds digestion, regulates the bowels, increases elimination by way of the kidneys. That exaggerated feeling of gas and bloatedness away. You and blues and despair changing to happiness and hope. Since 1899, thousands of men, women and children have used Alpen Krauter with real success.

Find out yourself just what Alpen Krauter can do for you. Ask your druggist or call your Agent for Alpen Krauter today.

Evangelist

Herman H. Kooy, evangelist from Mankato, Minn., comes to Walnut to lead in an evangelistic revival at the Church of Christ. Mr. Kooy is the brother of Dewey C. Kooy, minister of the church in Walnut. He has closed his ministry with the church at Mankato to enter the evangelistic field for an indefinite time. He is a graduate of Minnesota Bible University of Minneapolis. All are invited to hear this young dynamic proclaimer of the Gospel of Jesus Christ beginning November 17th and continuing each night for at least two weeks. Mrs. H. H. Kooy is known as a very fine crayon artist and will demonstrate her talent each night. Mr. Kooy will come from Worthington, Minn., where he has just closed a series of like meetings.

In the church parlors Wednesday evening, Miss Janet Meyers assisted by the pastor Rev. Grafton, had charge of the devotions and lesson study. After the program games were played. Lovely refreshments were served by Kenneth Sandrock and Miss Mary Jane Norris. A good time is reported by all.

A Good Play

From every side we hear words of praise for the splendid play given by the young people of the Church of the Brethren Sunday evening. The play was in one act and was entitled "The House on the Sand." This play emphasized the value of good homes and carried with it a worthwhile message to everyone who was present.

Annual Banquet

Saturday evening, November 9, the Rural Letter Carriers of the Thirteenth Congressional district and their wives, enjoyed their annual banquet at the Kersten gymnasium at this place.

About ninety persons were present, including postmasters and their wives from Sterling, Polo, Rochelle and Franklin Grove. An excellent chicken dinner was served by Circle 3 of the W. S. C. S. of the Methodist church.

F. L. Jordan of Dixon, president of the district association, was master of ceremonies. Rev. Ralph M. Deger of the Methodist church offered in the invocation. The address of welcome was given by C. A. Watson of Franklin Grove, which made everyone feel that they were more than welcome. A hearty response was given by J. M. Yeager of Lanark.

Dinner music was furnished by Lowell Trottnow and Miss June with the accordion and piano. During the program Miss Hatch favored with two vocal numbers accompanied by Lowell Trottnow.

Watson for the splendid success of the banquet.

Former Pastor Here

Rev. L. V. Sittler, a former pastor of the Methodist church, will be the speaker Sunday afternoon at 1:30 at the Methodist church Harvest Home. Rev. Sittler has many friends here who will be glad to hear him. Other attractions on the afternoon program will be a duet by Misses Josephine and Maxine Kelley, Joan Ann Emmons, Rev. Sittler and Ralph Canode. A full day from 9:30 until 3:00 with a lovely scramble dinner at noon. Anyone is invited to attend all the services which will be found in the Methodist church notes elsewhere in these items.

Will Assist In Play

Three young people from this place have been invited to assist in a home talent play entitled "This Land of Ours", which is being presented under the auspices of the Ashton Woman's club. Miss Lucille Hart of Ashton is the writer of the historical play. The play will be given Friday afternoon, Nov. 15 at 2 p. m. in the Mills & Petrie Memorial building. The play is open to the public at a nominal admission charge. The Franklin Grove Woman's club has been invited as guests. Those here taking part are: Ted Phillips Jr., who will play a clarinet solo, and will also play a duet with George Yenerich of Ashton. Miss Mildred Unger is cast as the wife of Chief Shabbona and will sing "An Indian Lullaby". Robert Watson will depict an Indian brave of the Pottawatomie tribe. Rev. Deger is playing the part of Chief Shabbona.

Community Club Meeting

The Hausen Community club met Thursday night at the Hausen school house. About thirty were present. The program committee which was composed of Mr. Siemen, Mrs. Arthur Emmons, and Mrs. Kathryn Cover had prepared a good program which was much enjoyed. After the program a social hour followed during which the hostesses Mrs. Charles Eich and Mrs. Blaine Hussey served lovely refreshments.

Sunday Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Lott entertained for dinner Sunday, Rev. Louis Grafton and his mother, Mrs. Mary Grafton, Mr. and Mrs. Will Lott and daughter Miss Fern, Miss Mary Jean Miller, Mrs. Bessie Schafer and son John Adam, Mr. and Mrs. William Crawford, Mrs. A. W. Crawford, and Mrs. Virgie Crawford.

Aid Meeting

The Aid society of the Presbyterian church will meet Thursday afternoon, Nov. 13 at the home of Mrs. J. R. Dysart. A good attendance is desired.

A Good Project

At the joint official board and church school board meeting held recently at the Methodist church it was decided that the church should adopt as a project for the church year the purchase of an organ. The pastor, Rev. Deger announced the following committee: Luther Durkes, Mrs. Charles Howard, Ted Phillips, Jr., members of the music and worship committee which includes the pastor, F. J. Blocher, Mrs. W. L. Moore, Mrs. Cecil Emmons and Miss Flora Wicker.

Class Play

Remember the senior class play, "Spring Fever" which will be presented Friday evening, November 15th at the Kersten gymnasium at 8 P. M. There should be a good attendance to encourage the young folks, who have worked hard to make it a success.

Oyster Supper

Mr. and Mrs. George E. Schultz entertained with an oyster supper Monday evening. Those present to enjoy the event were: Mr. and Mrs. Jay Miller, daughter Miss June, and son Gerald Mrs. Sadie Blaine, O. O. Miller, William Naylor and Howard Byer.

Sunday Guests

Mrs. Rose Senger entertained for dinner and supper Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Senger and son Donovan and Mrs. Connors of Elgin. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Senger and daughter, Miss Helen and son John.

Sunday at Myers Home

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Myers of Rock Island; Mr. and Mrs. Perry Brown and daughter Miss Joan and Will Neil of Chicago were Sunday guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Myers. The condition of Mrs. Myers is not as encouraging as would have been hoped for.

Moved to Amboy

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Yocum and family moved to Amboy Monday. It is with sincere regrets that we see this splendid family leave our town where they have resided for many years. Mrs. Yocum and her three daughters have been very helpful in every way in the Methodist church, in social events, both in and out of the high school. Our loss is Amboy's gain.

Circles Will Meet

The Circle of the Methodist church will meet Thursday afternoon. Circle 1 will meet in the home of Mrs. Carrie B. Crawford. Circle 2 will meet with Mrs. Minnetta Moore and she will be assisted by Mrs. Addie Johnson. Circle 3 will have an all-day meeting in the basement of the church and will spend the day making their famous mince meat which they have made the past several years. If you want some take your container to the church Thursday.

Here Saturday

Mrs. Carrie Timm and daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Judd Brinkley and Mrs. Helen Kregor of Evanston were here Saturday calling on relatives. Mrs. Timm will be remembered as Carrie Buck, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Abe Buck who lived south of town for several years before moving to Chicago.

Have Moved

Mr. and Mrs. Axel Holderson and family have moved to the Mrs. Minnie Maul farm in Bradford. Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Fick and family have moved from Ashton to the place vacated by the Holderson family. Mrs. Anna Breunier has moved her household goods from Sterling to the Lloyd Blum apartment, which will be remembered as the Charles Jacob's residence.

Methodist Church

On Sunday, November 17, the Franklin Grove Methodist church will celebrate Harvest Home, from 9:30 to 3:00 o'clock. All former members and out-of-town members are being invited. So let this stand as a personal invitation to you to come and join with your friends in a time of fellowship and thanksgiving.

The program for the day, beginning 9:30 A. M., will be as follows:

Unified service of worship and study
Sermon: "And God Saw That It Was Good" by the pastor
Lesson study: "Jesus Concern for Life and Health"
Visiting hour
Scramble dinner
Gospel sing
Piano and orchestra interlude
Service of Thanksgiving (beginning 1:30 P. M.)
Sermon: "Autumnal Reveries" by Reverend Lloyd V. Sittler.

Woman's Society of Christian Service Thank Offering
Solos, duets, anthems by "sweet singers of the Gospel", inspirational sermons one by a beloved former pastor), fellowship with old friends, group singing of your favorite gospel songs, instrumental music—well, everything will help to make it a day long to be remembered.

The day—Sunday, November 17. The time, 9:30 to 3:00 for any part of that time, though we would like to have you here for the whole Harvest Home. The place, Franklin Grove Methodist church. We hope to see you then and there.

Agreement Reached on Wage Scale to Be Paid for Work at Camp Peay

Washington —(AP)—Work connected with the expansion of Camp Peay at Tullahoma, Tenn., will proceed at regular union wages, it was announced by Joseph Keenan, assistant to Sidney Hillman, labor member of the National Defense Commission. Keenan said an adjustment in the wage scale was agreed upon after some of the workmen had asked increased overtime pay. Keenan added that the war department would determine what union overtime rates apply and pay them. The 33rd division of the Illinois National Guard and other units were scheduled to arrive at the camp within the next few weeks for their year's Federal service.

Only Major Country to Observe Armistice Day

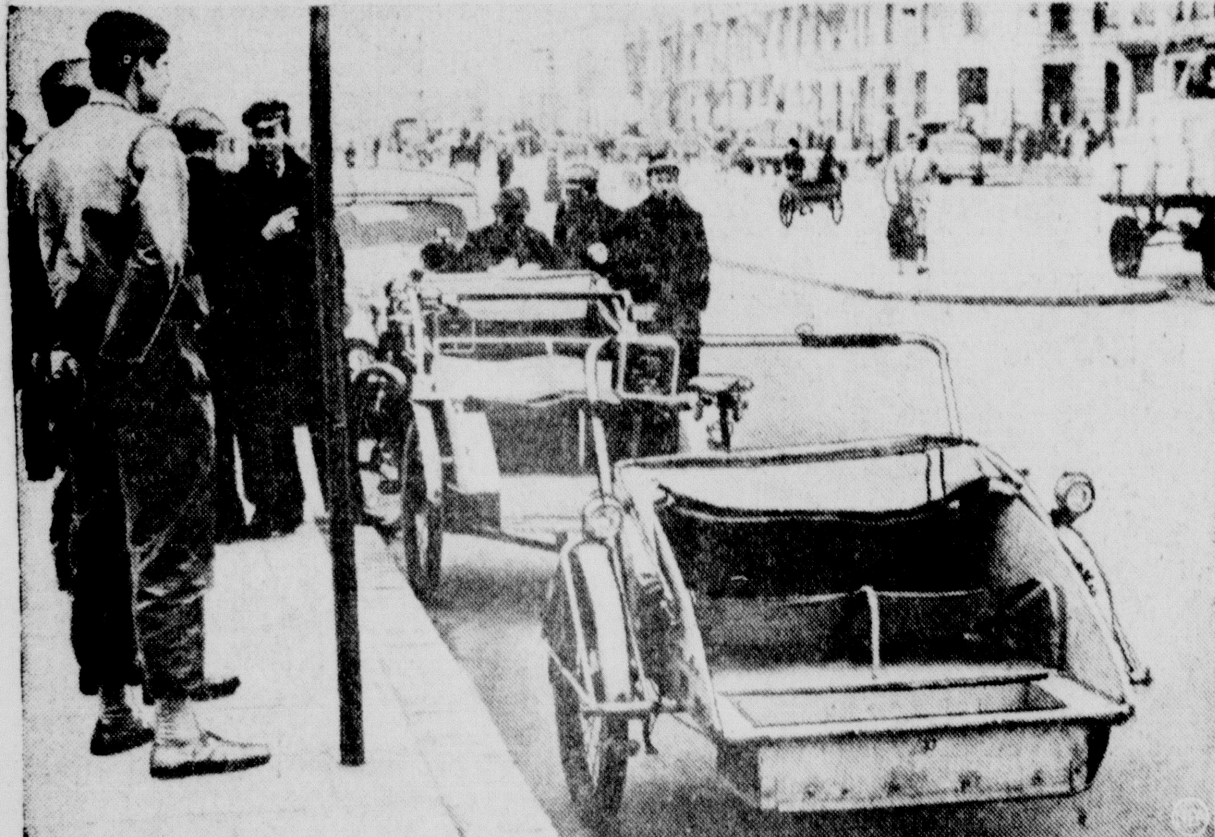

(NEA Telephoto.)
In a war-torn world, the United States was only major power to hold Armistice Day ceremonies honoring World War I. dead. President Roosevelt (left) with military aide, Gen. Edwin Watson, stands at attention as naval aide Captain Daniel Callaghan places wreath at tomb of unknown soldier in Arlington National cemetery.

Bucharest, Rumania, is reported a mass of ruins after earthquakes shook the Balkan kingdom, killing thousands and injuring countless more. Shown above is Galea Victoreie, principal retail business street of Bucharest, as it looked before quake hit the city and adjoining villages.

Duchess of Windsors' New Gown

The Duchess of Windsor has often set the pace of world fashion with her varied and chic outfits. But this, her newest attire, is practical rather than chic and is as old as nursing itself. She's pictured in Nassau, where, as president of the Bahamas Red Cross, she's hard at work aiding the British Empire war effort.

He's R. A. F.'s "Master Planner"

Britons are expecting ever-increasing R. A. F. counter-attacks against their foes, inspired by Sir Charles Portal, new Chief of Air Staff, who is known as an apostle of attack. As head of the bomber command, he drew up the "master plan" of blasting German embarkation ports and supply bottlenecks which is largely credited with staving off invasion.

SCHOOLGIRL COLLECTS MONEY FOR AMBULANCE

BARBARA J. KADEN, twelve-year-old daughter of Irving L. Kaden, of New York City, personally collected $1,350 to purchase an ambulance for the British people. Soliciting after school hours, (she's a student at Joan of Arc Junior High School), Barbara collected the money from tenants of her father's building at 1370 Broadway, New York City. She is shown here presenting the $1,350 in checks to Mrs. Spaulding Kirkbride, secretary of the British-American Ambulance Corps, at the Corps Headquarters, 420 Lexington Avenue. Barbara is planning to raise the money for two more ambulances with her father's help.

Armistice Day Program

American Legion Post No. 540, conducted a patriotic program at Mendota Township high school, Monday. Attorney Thomas O. Meare of Ottawa, was the guest speaker. The high school girls' octet sang "God Bless America". The American Legion chorus sang several numbers. At eleven o'clock a memorial service was conducted by the Legionnaires for their departed brothers on the school lawn. The firing squad fired three volleys and taps were sounded by Stanley Yost and Willis Snyder.

The American Legion Auxiliary conducted services at Lincoln school for students of grade and parochial schools. Mrs. Josephine T. Coss, Americanism chairman, was in charge. The program consisted of advancement of the colors, by Donald Gruman, Harold Guehrer and Louis Koopersmith; flag salute and pledge of allegiance. The audience sang "God Bless America", recitation, "Keep the Faith," Phyllis Parsons; song, "Armistice Day," second grade pupils. Prayer, Mrs. Jo Cannon, Auxiliary chaplain; 11 a. m. taps. Wayne Ashley and Warren Moore; song, "America, the Beautiful," and "There is a Rose in No-Man's Land," Mrs. Ho Tower; recitation, "In Flanders Field," Roberta Mercer; song "Armistice Day Parade," fourth and fifth grades, closing "Star Spangled Banner."

The football game which was to have been played by Mendota and Spring Valley was postponed until this evening.

On Tuesday evening a dinner for Legion and Auxiliary members, wives and husbands was served at the St. John's Lutheran parish house. Reservations were made for one hundred and fifty. The dinner was served by the Lutheran Ladies' Aid.

Guest Speaker was Oscar Berg of Amboy, past Second Division commander. All members brought cigarettes which will be distributed to disabled veterans in hospitals.

Student Council

President-Elect of Mexico Recognized by United States

Washington, Nov. 13—(AP)—Formal recognition of Mexico's new president-elect and reports of intensified efforts for hemisphere defense collaboration gave evidence today of continuing administration pre-occupation with matters pertaining to Pan-American solidarity.

The recognition of General Avila Camacho as the Mexican president-elect had an unusual aspect, for it was accompanied last night by the announcement that Henry A. Wallace, vice president-elect of the United States, would represent this country at the Camacho inauguration December 1 in Mexico City.

Mexico's presidential election had been in dispute, and the announcement of Camacho's recognition was the first government expression here on the controversy. In Mexico, the action of the United States was received as welcome news, with special gratification manifested at the appointment of Wallace.

Mexico, however, apparently was only one of the Latin American nations to figure in state department consultations yesterday. Secretary Hull, Secretary of War Stimson and Secretary of Navy Knox conferred for almost an hour and it was believed in well-informed quarters that hemisphere defense provided the major topic.

The progress of defense negotiations with other American republics was reviewed, these sources believed, and consideration given to the necessary subsequent steps for advancing the program with all possible speed.

Defense consultations have been proceeding quietly with the other republics since last summer.

1940 Stored Corn Loan Rate to Be 1 Cents Per Bu.

Washington, Nov. 13—(AP)—The agriculture department is expected to announce within a few days details of a program under which midwestern farmers may store 1940-grown corn under government loans at a rate of about 61 cents a bushel.

Under a similar program last year, growers stored corn at a rate of 57 cents.

The loan program is designed to place a floor under prices. Officials explain that the present surplus of about 700,000,000 bushels from previous crops would depress prices considerably below current levels if it were not for the loans.

Meanwhile, the department's crop reporting board boosted its 1940 production estimate 81,000,000 bushels to 2,433,523,000 bushels on the basis of November 1 conditions. A crop of this size would be about seven per cent less than the 1939 crop of 2,619,137,000 bushels but about six per cent larger than the 10-year (1929-38) average.

The board said husking was well advanced compared with the average but was lagging compared with last year when the crop ripened and was husked under ideal conditions.

In general the board said, the 1940 crop is expected to be of good quality but not equal to that of the past three years.

Present indications point to lower-than-average silage yields in the northeast, and in the eastern corn belt states where either an early frost or drought stunted growth. With the exception of Kansas and Nebraska, where growth was shortened by July drought, silage yields in the remainder of the corn belt were above average.

The department estimated the 1940 production of feed grains for all purposes at 98,500,000 tons or only about two per cent below the pre-drought average. It said this tonnage was sufficient to permit feeding present livestock about as liberally as in any of the past 15 years without using any of the large reserves of corn stored under the government loan programs.

Fullest Exposure Is Promised In Bridge Failure

Engineer Puts Blame on New Dealers

Tacoma, Wash.—Numerous inquiries into the collapse of the $6,400,000 Narrows bridge which were shaping up today indicated the disaster may be investigated more intensively than any other bridge failure in the country.

Wide attention was given the statement of Clarke W. Eldridge, chief engineer of the Washington toll bridge authority, who blamed the span's disintegration on the refusal of New Deal agencies to advance sufficient money to buy other than cheap materials and their insistence that certain designers be employed.

On the other hand, Leon S. Moisseiff of New York, the designer, suggested the principal reason for the failure was the engineering profession's lack of knowledge about aero-dynamics.

Letter from Brave London Woman Tells of Needs

The British War Relief Society is more than grateful to the people of Dixon for responding so generously to their call for clothing and bedding to send to the war sufferers of England. Splendid clean clothing was sent to Chicago. There all clothing is again sorted and all sent to New York and to England. All garments are mended and cleaned if necessary. Shoes are repaired before being sent.

The call is still extremely urgent. The suffering is heart-rending as the letter below indicates. This letter was written by an English woman and sent to Mrs. Donald McWilliams of Chicago, a copy of which was sent to Mrs. H. U. Bardwell of Dixon by the British War Relief Society.

It tells the sad story of the terrible suffering. Dixon people are again asked to help in all possible ways. All warm wearable clothing is wanted. Donations of money are also needed to buy ambulances, kitchens on wheels and surgical dressings.

A phone call to any of the various workers will further explain the needs. If it is not convenient to send gifts yourself, Mrs. Ben Shaw, chairman of the transportation committee, will make the collection. Bedding is greatly needed. A very kind act would be the making of comforters by groups or in church or social societies.

Mrs. Theodore Miller, chairman of the knitting committee, has enlisted the help of experienced knitters. These women are making sweaters. Barry Lennon, vice president, Dixon National bank, is treasurer of the British War Relief Society. Cash donations may be left with Mr. Lennon. Gifts ranging from one dollar to $25 have been received and the money has been sent to England to gladden the brave hearts.

Excerpts from a letter received by Mrs. Donald McWilliams: London, England.

I am still here! Though our nights are becoming so ferocious, one marvels in the morning to find the house still standing. Our quarter is an extraordinary sight. There are very few window panes left, and practically not one shop window. There are ropes across the streets where time bombs are about to explode. Craters in the streets and where houses have been hit, there is a hole some six feet deep (not much considering) and not a trace of furniture or anything. The Boche have been dropping land mines, the size of a horse, a fireman told me. They are just murderers.

London is quite crowded with cheerful business-like people. Life is being organized underground. Offices, dormitories, canteens. Once all these shelters are well organized we can go on living in London for years, under bombs, if necessary.

I am running the clothes depot for help to East End homeless housed in Westminster. (Some are not housed.) The government is going to build more houses. "They live in tubes!" We, W. V. S. (Women's Volunteer Service) have left all other work to assist the British Evacuees.

I can't tell you how grateful we are for the clothes sent from America. People come to us with their trousers in ribbons in bedclothes, any old thing. They have lost every stitch they possessed. We need underclothes badly, with the winter coming on. (Socks and nappies for new socks, we need masses of these), warm trousers, mufflers, overcoats, suits, pajamas (there is a terrific need for these). There is also an endless demand for shirts, sent from America.

We need warm dresses for the women. (We have hundreds of flimsy summer dresses and sun suits and bathing costumes!) Stockings, we need lots of clothes for the children. (The Londoners do not like bright colors.) We need underclothes for girls 9 to 16. We have none. We have no raincoats for men and very few for women, and you know what English winter is like. We lack toys.

My depot is my pride and joy! I have a squad of Belgians to help me, in return for what we did for them. The place is spotless. I have a waiting room (queues misers; swarms of unfortunates waiting to come in). A room for women's clothes and one for men's. With a table and boxes of things, and screens for trying clothes on. I have a reserve of better things for needy gentlemen or men. I have pens for babies. Then my toy department keeps the children quiet. They can take away one toy each. It is at 58 Euston Square, and I get our clothes from 88 Eaton Square. They come there direct from America and from all over G. B. Lady Symes (the wife of our Governor General in the Sudan) works at 88 Eaton Square and is very helpful to me. We start to work at 9 a. m. and work until 6 p. m. It is no picnic. I can never turn people away. Often I carry on when we are supposed to be tucked into our beds.

The shell shock cases look quite mad and have to be turned out of hospitals to make room for others, before they are fit to stand. They have lost their houses, their hearts, their work and live in tube stations! But they don't complain or panic.

Half of Italian Navy Put Out of Service by Bombs

London, Nov. 12—(AP)—British naval bombers, in a smashing attack on Italy's main naval base at Taranto, have seriously crippled two battleships and probably severely damaged a third, with the result that only half of the Italian navy's six capital ships remain effective, the British Admiralty said today.

In addition, two cruisers and two fleet auxiliaries were damaged, an Admiralty communique announced.

"The Royal navy has struck a crippling blow at the Italian fleet," the communique said. The navy airmen, it stated, attacked the "main units" of the Italian force "snuggling behind their shore defenses in their main base at Taranto", in the instep of the Italian host.

One battleship of the brand new Littorio class, of 35,000 tons, was left "badly down by the bows" with her forecable under water and a heavy list as a result of bomb hits, the Admiralty said.

Another battleship, of the 23,622-ton Conte de Cavour class, was beached, with her stern up and her turret under water, the communique said, while "it appears probable" a second battleship of that class was "severely damaged".

"In the inner harbor two cruisers are listing to starboard and are surrounded by oil fuel. Two fleet auxiliaries are lying with their sterns under water."

"The total strength of the Italian battle fleet was six battleships, two of the Littorio class which have just been put into service, and four of the recently-reconstructed 'Cavour' class," the communique said. "As the result of this determined and highly successful attack, probably only three Italian battleships now remain effective."

The attack, which was carried out the night of November 11-12, was admitted by the Italians yesterday to have resulted in the serious damage to one warship.

DIGGING IN PAYS OFF

Frick, Switzerland—(AP)—Business was so bad for the village potter of Oeschgen-Aarand that he decided to take up farming.

While clearing a field he discovered an ancient pottery kiln and pieced together fragments of many late bronze-age pots. He sold them to a museum for a sum that has enabled him to go back to his potter's wheel.

"TOUGH FIGHT, MA"

Longmont, Colo. (AP)—Big game hunters in Colorado are using carrier pigeons to carry home the news of when they have made their kill.

"Five bucks down by noon," said a message attached to one bird found dead near a Longmont highway. "Call Ray's folks." The message-carrying pigeon had struck an electric power line.

First class school house in Iowa was constructed at Elkader in 1936 at a cost of $145,000.

Dramatic Tale of Burial of Trio of Indians Unfolded

Peoria, Ill., Nov. 13—(AP)—The dramatic story of the burial of three Indians who obviously ranked high among a people that hunted and fished in Illinois long before Columbus discovered America has been unearthed by Illinois Museum archeologists who are digging into the big Indian mounds that dot the state.

Surrounded by the bungled bones of scores of their tribesmen, the well-preserved skeletons of three men who possibly were chiefs or high priests were found in a crumbling log vault at the base of a 12-foot burial mound on a bluff overlooking the Illinois river near Moxville, 10 miles north of Peoria.

The burial mound containing traces of the highly-developed Indians whom archeologists estimate flourished about 1,000 A. D. was described by Dr. Thorne Deuel, chief of the Illinois State Museum, as "a most important find and one that will contribute greatly to our knowledge of Illinois prehistory."

Using bones, spear heads, beads and other articles found in the mound, Dr. Deuel plans a diorama reconstructing life of that period to be installed in the Illinois State Museum at Springfield.

A crew of WPA workers under the supervision of Winslow Walker, archeologist on the museum staff, formerly connected with the University of Chicago and the Smithsonian Institution, scraped away earth piled 12 feet high in a 100-foot circle on the J. Bruce Dickinson farm, two miles north of Moxville, to reveal the burial

THE BROWN FAMILY
NEEDED MONEY

One evening John Brown said to his wife, "Mary, suppose we take out a loan with the Northern Illinois Finance Corp. It will be of great assistance to us; for one thing, the furnace needs fixing . . . Junior needs new winter clothing . . . We need coal for the winter season . . . besides one or two other outstanding bills, which should be met now!"

"Besides, we have several friends who have found that this particular Loan Plan offers just what they needed."

The Junior Woman's club met on Thursday evening with Miss Evelyn July in Mendota. A very good number were present for the occasion and a delightful evening was spent by the group. After the short program dainty refreshments were served by the hostess.

New Score Board

Paw Paw Community high school will have a new electric time clock and score board for this season's campaign. The new addition was purchased with the money obtained by the students from selling magazines. This score board was a badly needed item at the local gymnasium and will give local fans more convenience in watching the games this season.

Florence Grunderman Honored

An unusual experience came to Miss Florence Grunderman, well-known Paw Paw girl, now a student at the Modern Dance club at

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour 2 pints of bile juice into your bowels every day. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food may not digest. It may just decay in the bowels. Then gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. You feel sour, sunk and the world looks pink.

It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these 2 pints of bile flowing freely to make you feel "top and up." Get a package today. Take as directed. Amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills, 10¢ and 25¢.

George Williams' college in Chicago last week. The original Ballet Russe, directed by Col. W. D. Basil was playing in the Auditorium theatre and Miss Grunderman along with six other students were chosen to act as "supers" for the ballet "Le Coq d'Or" which is playing there at present. This large troupe, accustomed to touring the world the year around, finds it impossible to carry enough people to fill the less important parts in their performance. Therefore additional players or "supers" are cast in each city and Miss Grunderman happened to be one of those chosen for this honor. Miss Grunderman reports that she was very much interested in the show and enjoyed watching the top-notch rehearsal and also was thrilled with the back stage life.

Grange Dance

The Grange dance held at Taber's hall on Thursday evening was quite a success. A very good number attended the affair for the new and old-time dances and enjoyed a perfect evening of entertainment.

Frank Larrabee Weds

Frank Larrabee, son of Mrs. Grace Larrabee of Galesburg, was married on Wednesday. Mr. Larrabee is well known here and his many friends extend congratulations. Mrs. Anna Warren and son Tom journeyed to Appleton, Wis. to attend the ceremony.

Farm Notes

Many of the farmers in this vicinity are combining their soy beans. Most farmers report that the bean yield this year is very small. It is reported that the average yield is around 18 to 24 bushels per acre. This poor yield, along with the poorer corn crop gives the farmers a rather lean year.

Frank Wheeler Ill

Frank Wheeler, cashier of the local State bank was taken very ill on Thursday afternoon. According to latest reports, Mr. Wheeler is confined to his bed but is doing as well as can be expected. His many friends extend their sympathy and hope that Mr. Wheeler will be up and around in a short time.

C. W. Barth Ill

C. W. Barth, well-known Paw Paw citizen, is very ill at present and is confined to his home. His many friends hope for a speedy recovery.

Reading Circles

Mrs. Jeanette Fleming entertained the Willow Creek Reading circle in a very enjoyable meeting last week. Two very interesting book reports were given, one by Mrs. Phyllis Mullen and another by Mrs. Cora Bowers. Topics pertaining to their school work were discussed after which the hostess served a dainty lunch.

The Wyoming Reading circle enjoyed its meeting the latter part of the week, meeting with Miss Agnes Truckenbrod. The usual social time was enjoyed and interesting topics of discussion were given.

Basketball News

Coach Howard Flancher of the Paw Paw high school quintet suffered some set-backs in the past week. The first five was a badly crippled aggregation, with Dutch Knetsch still sitting on the side lines with a bad leg and little Eddie Marks handicapped with a wrenched wrist, and Bill Town who was scheduled to be a starting forward not living up to expectations in the week's drills. Town has real capabilities but so far has failed to show drive and is badly out of condition. The next week will have a great bearing on just how good the local five will go into their campaign beginning on Nov. 19.

Leon Hutchinson was a Mendota visitor on Saturday afternoon.

Tony Heffner and Mrs. Hazel Meade were Rochelle business callers Saturday afternoon.

Richard Kellogg of Earlville was in Paw Paw on Saturday.

Mrs. Mabel Worsley, Mrs. E. N. Gibbs, Miss Alta Beach and Mr. and Mrs. George Kelly were Aurora visitors on Friday.

Local readers will be interested to note that Theodore H. Jeddeloh, a former teacher in Paw Paw, held number 158 in the draft. Mr. Jeddeloh now is a member of the Hinckley high school faculty.

Big Legion Meeting

The county meeting of the members of the American Legion was held in Paw Paw on Friday evening at the local legion hall. A very good number were in attendance for this important affair and enjoyed the ceremonies presented. The main speakers for the evening were the second division commander of the Legion, William Seymour, the district commander, Charles Edson, and the department service officer, Mr. White. These very interesting and worthwhile talks were thoroughly enjoyed by the large audience. After the ceremonies, delicious refreshments were served by the committee.

Visit at O. E. S. Home

A group of Paw Paw people journeyed to Rockford on Sunday afternoon to enjoy a visit at the Eastern Star home for elderly ladies. This beautiful institution, situated on the banks of the Rock River, is a very interesting place to visit and makes a pleasant home for some 108 elderly women.

The Paw Paw group took along refreshments for the ladies of the institution. Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Nangle and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Firkins furnished music for the occasion and the ladies thoroughly enjoyed the entertainment. A group of 24 of the ladies from the home presented a very pretty flag drill for the Paw Paw visitors.

Those making the trip were Miss Ellen Mitchell, Mrs. Gertie Ramey, Mrs. Tillie Weaver, Mrs. Lillia Hammond, Mrs. Delia Smith, Mrs. Birt DeJean, Mrs. Fred Goble, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Rosenkrans, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Firkins and Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Nangle.

Bartlett and son, Gerry, of Chatsworth, Mrs. Clayton Faber and daughter, Beverly, of Geona, were guests on Sunday at the Kenneth Foster home at Milwaukee, Wisconsin, for a lovely turkey dinner.

Rebekahs at Dixon

A large group of ladies from the local order of the Rebekah lodge journeyed to Dixon on Friday evening to attend a meeting sponsored by the Dixon Rebekah lodge for the entertainment of the members and officers of Rebekah district number 8. A very delicious dinner was served to those attending the meeting and beautiful patriotic decorations made the table a lovely sight. A very fine program was put on for the enjoyment of those attending.

The Paw Paw ladies present for Worsley, Mrs. Arthur Harper, Worsley, Mrs. Arthur Harper, Mrs. R. W. Prieskorn, Mrs. Lewis Clemons, Mrs. Anna Warren, Mrs. Mabel Schreck, Mrs. Frank Cooke, Mrs. Bayle Harper, Mrs. John Teece, Mrs. Ralph Potter, Mrs. J. R. Reynolds, Mrs. Myrtle Harris, Mrs. Delia Smith, Miss Laberta Stern and Mrs. Blanche Roberts.

Storm Hits Paw Paw

Today, as this article is being written, a terrific gale accompanied by snow flurries and occasional blasts of sleet and rain engulfed Paw Paw and vicinity. The terrific gale blowing from the southwest has done great damage throughout the community. It is reported that many buildings have had the windows blown out and a number of trees have been uprooted. The greatest damage, however, is to the corn crop that is yet unharvested. The corn has been blown flat to the ground making it almost impossible for corn picking machinery to get much of the crop.

Twentieth Century Club

Mrs. I. H. Breese entertained the members of the local Twentieth Century club at her home Friday afternoon. A very pleasant afternoon was spent by the ladies. A short program after which the good number in attendance enjoyed the usual social hour.

Hello World!

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Schlesinger became proud parents on Armistice Day morning, Nov. 11. Mrs. Schlesinger will be remembered by her many friends in Paw Paw as Doris Kern.
